PEACE PROPOSALS CONSIDERED—PRUSSIA MODIFIES HER TERMS.

PARIS, September 9.—At a meeting of the Diplomatic Corps to-day to discuss terms of peace no conclusion was reached. They meet again to-morrow. Prussia is reported to have modified her conditions. She reduces the indemnity from [illegible] to [illegible] sterling, and refers to a European Congress the question of annexation of conquered provinces. If the peace negotiations fail, the government will remove to Tours, leaving the defense to the Committee in Paris. All is quiet.

STRASBURG PROPOSES TO SURRENDER ON CONDITIONS.

The correspondent of the New York Tribune at Carlsruhe telegraphs as follows:

When informed that Sedan had surrendered, General Ulrich proposed to surrender Strasburg, provided the troops be permitted to march out with the honors of war! The German commander refused, insisting on unconditional surrender. The bombardment is continuing with increased vigor. The siege is not expected to last a fortnight longer. The fire is entirely concentrated on the fortifications.

Troops have been sent to occupy the upper Rhine districts and protect trains from Basle.

FRENCH MARAUDERS ON THE FRONTIER—M'MAHON AT BRUSSELS.

The Tribune correspondent at Brussels, Thursday, says French marauders are reported on the frontier, and troops are being sent to meet them. McMahon arrived to-day.

THE ORLEANS PRINCES LEAVE PARIS AT THE REQUEST OF THE MINISTRY.

The Orleans Princes, soon after their arrival in Paris, called on Minister Favre and asked to share in the defense of Paris. Favre told them their presence might be misunderstood and appealing to their patriotism requested them to leave the city, which the Princes consented to do, and they have since fulfilled their promise.

GOOD WORDS FOR THE UNITED STATES.

The Journal De Paris says: "America has merited well of the civilized world for addressing France in her hour of peril and misfortune words of consolation and hope. By recognizing the French Republic America opened the way of peace. It must be that the people of this continent will follow in her example."

The Moniteur makes a great display of the news of the recognition by the United States. The Siecle has a flattering and most grateful article, and the La Liberte follows suit.

The Avenir Nationale says: "We are brought to admire the United States, which has always had a right to our respect, because she enforced her rights and conquered independence. That country is for us a living lesson and constant instruction. This may explain how highly we esteem its recognition and good wishes."

The same journals say the Prussians will defer an attack on Paris in the hope of civil war. Others fear they mean to attack other places.

THE TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT.

A noticeable change has been made in the Department of Telegraphy. The new Director General, Steenacker, is most liberal and obliging, and endeavoring to change the spirit of opposition to all innovations merely because they are such.

OTHER DEPARTMENTS—POPULARITY OF GEN. TROCHU.

A remarkable improvement has been made in the working of other governmental departments. The popularity of Trochu is unbounded. The people all day long await his entrance into the Louvre to cheer him.

GENERAL ASPECT OF THE CITY.

The aspect of Paris is that of a military camp. Mobiles and Garde Nationale dwell in the streets. On all sides are men in uniform. Regiments of cavalry and artillery are passing through the streets. Mobiles from the provinces are billeted upon the inhabitants. At railway stations there are many harrowing scenes; women and children endeavoring to leave in thousands upon thousands; baggage piled as high as houses, and most of the railways now refuse to take baggage; as the trains leave upon each departure hundreds are left behind; women fret and weep and children are frightened; at night there are no police, but a patrol of citizens, who severally investigate everybody; no place of amusement is open, as most of the artists belong to the National Guards, which at night have possession of the boulevards. The town is as quiet as a provincial place, which is a most impressive change. The determination to defend the city is general and unyielding.

It has been rumored since two o'clock that the Diplomatique Corps is conferring and proposes in case of agreement to [illegible] to-night to the King of Prussia. All the Ambassadors, the Papal Nuncio included, have called upon the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and it is understood they will all go with the Government. The delegates will reside in Tours during the siege. The Postoffice Department and those of the telegraph and finances are already installed largely at Tours. Should that department be invaded, the service will be removed further South.

There is no truth in the rumor of a new Ran. Many journals, though the stamp duty is removed, are unchanged in price, owing, it is alleged, to the high price of paper.

NEWS SUMMARY.

PARIS, September 9.—Jules Favre has declined the services of the Orleans Princes, and begged of them to quit the city for fear of complications.

It is again reported that the Diplomatic Corps at Paris has gone to King William's headquarters in the interests of peace.

The press enthusiastically applaud Washburn's note of felicitation upon the advent of the Republic.

The Siecle says: "France and America are now united against oppression and tyranny."

La Patrie remarks "Washburne ignores the question of intervention," and asks whether America will maintain an attitude of reserve upon this point, or whether Washburne did not want to treat of it in his first official communication.

Paris papers refer obscurely to the new murderous engine confided for the defense of the city. They also claim that they now have more than one hundred thousand armed men within the walls.

The position of the German army, in the neighborhood of Soissons, is still the westernmost point where the Prussians have been observed.

There is a great scarcity of printing paper in Paris. Galignani's Messenger has been reduced in size, and it is likely other papers will be forced to follow.

The authorities at Berlin are confident that Russia will withdraw her proposition for a conference in view of the persistence of Prussia.

It is reported that owing to the creation of a French Republic Austria is arming again.

Madame George Sand has saluted the new regime.

There is intense excitement at Marseilles. Quite a number of the police force have been arrested as spies. A band of women employed in a manufactory yesterday paraded the streets, singing the "Marseillaise." The authorities are taking measures to prevent any disorder.

A mob at Sieppe on Saturday night tried to stop the baggage of Princess Mathilde, who had embarked for England. The police and gens d'armes interfered successfully, and everything valuable, objects of art and antiquity, were placed out of danger.

A dispatch from Namur says an incursion of marauders from France have been pillaging on Belgian farms. Belgian troops have been ordered to stop them.

A Brussels dispatch says it is reported that the King of Prussia says that Thiers is the only person he will treat with. In such case Thiers will be appointed President of the Government.

McMahon is now reported to be at Brussels.

The seaports of Brest, Havre and Cherbourg are being actively placed in a complete state of defence. Fears are expressed here that Marshal Bazaine, who is shut up in Metz, will be forced to capitulate in a few days, as he is now reduced to a sore strait for lack of provisions and ammunition.

THE AMERICAN MINISTER'S ADDRESS IN RESPONSE TO A SERENADE.

PARIS, September 9.—The following is the address delivered by Mr. Washburne to the crowd of people and soldiers who came to serenade him last evening:

"I thank you on the part of my Government for this demonstration. I shall have great pleasure in transmitting the thanks you express with so much eloquence for the recognition of the new Republic of France. In my communication, to which you make kind greeting, I have but made known the sentiment of the President and people of the United States of America, who take profound interest in the great movement just inaugurated in France, and will desire most profoundly its success and the happiness and prosperity of the French people. Existing themselves under a republican form of government, they know how to appreciate its benefits. With warm hearts and language they felicitate their former allies in the accomplishment of a pacific revolution, free from all stains of blood, and claiming the sympathy of all lovers of true liberty."

Along the Boulevards to-night there are many shouts of "Vive United States" and "Vive Independence." The action of the United States Government is warmly commented on in all parts of the city. Jules Favre called again to-day to reiterate his thanks to the nation and Mr. Washburne.

La France recalls the fact that in 1848 the United States was the first country to recognize the French Republic and she is the first again in 1870.

GERMANS IMPRISONED.

Six Prussians who had not obeyed the mandate to leave the city were imprisoned to-day.

CONFIDENT FOR DEFENSE.

A letter of General Trochu to a friend is published. He expresses confidence in the army gathered for the defence of Paris. Gen. Trochu issued a proclamation, dated yesterday, ordering the Gardes Mobile to posts of honor. The defence of the ramparts has been trusted to them.

LAON SUMMONED TO SURRENDER.

A dispatch from Laon, dated Thursday, says the Duke of Mecklenburg Schwerin surrounded the town with the German forces under his command, giving the garrison until ten o'clock this forenoon to surrender, with the alternative of receiving the same treatment extended to Strasburg.

ELECTION FOR CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY.

An official decree has been issued, convoking an Electoral College on the 16th of October to choose a National Constituent Assembly, agreeably to the provisions of the law of March 18, 1849.

GARIBALDI OFFERS HIS SERVICES—A FOREIGN CORPS ORGANIZING.

Garibaldi has offered his services to the French Republic.

A corps of foreign volunteers is organizing for the defense of Paris, to be called "Battalion of the Friends of France."

Many thousands of the Garde Mobile arrived to-day from the departments of Marne and Normandy. They are stout and hardy men.

Sergeants De Ville have been replaced by the Garde Civique.

REPLY TO THE AMERICAN MINISTER.

PARIS, September 9.—The Official Journal of the Republic to-day publishes the reply of Jules Favre to Minister Washburne. He says he considers it a happy augury for the French Republic to have obtained her first recognition from the United States, who founded their wise and careful institutions on independence and civil virtue, and in spite of the terrible ordeals they have passed through with unshaken firmness of their faith in the great principle of liberty whence issues dignity and prosperity. Nations deserving to become masters of their destiny must follow the course pursued by you; must take as symbols love of industry and respect of the rights of all. This is the programme of government just established here from an unfortunate crisis, the result of the follies of despotism. But at this moment we can have only one care, to deliver the nation from the enemy. There again we have the benefit of your example and your persevering courage in the accomplishment of that act we count upon the support of all men of heart and all governments interested in the triumph of peace. Strong in the justice of our cause, we have a firm hope of success, and the adhesion of government of Washington gives us confidence. The members of our government request that we make known to you their gratitude and beg you to transmit it to your government.

CORRESPONDENTS TO LEAVE.

Some of the news correspondents have left Paris and gone to Tours, in order to be outside the Prussian circumvallation, which they think will soon destroy telegraphic lines and communication between this city and the outside world.

THE GERMAN ARMIES NEAR PARIS—GREAT CONSTERNATION IN THE VICINITY AND IN THE CITY.

The Prussians are advancing on Paris rapidly. Their cavalry is already within ten miles of the city fortifications. The main body of the army is within thirty miles of Paris. There is tremendous consternation in the vicinity of the capital, and great excitement in Paris itself.

ENGLAND WILL NOT PUSH INTERVENTION.

PARIS, September 9.—It is reported in diplomatic circles that England will not push intervention in favor of peace, owing to the existing unpleasant relations just now between the Cabinets at Berlin and London. The Germans are incensed because England continues to sell arms to private individuals who deliver them to France.

AN OVATION TO ESQUIROS.

MARSEILLES, September 9.—The return here of Esquiros was the occasion of an ovation. He arrived by railway here yesterday afternoon and was received by the Prefect of the department, members of the Provisional Government, Municipal Council in a body, and other dignitaries. All the public places were decorated with flags. As the procession escorted Esquiros to the Hotel de Ville the people cheered with enthusiasm, but as it passed club-house hisses were heard. The indignant people attacked the place and several members of the club were arrested.

PROGRESS OF THE GERMAN ARMIES.

TROYES, September 9.—The Prussians passed Vitry Le Francaise yesterday. Their scouts make enormous requisitions on the surrounding country, and declare everywhere, in the name of the King of Prussia, that conscription is abolished.

MARSEILLAISE NEWSPAPER ATTACKED—ROCHEFORT'S INFLUENCE WITH THE PEOPLE.

The people to-day attacked the Marseillaise on account of Cluseret's reactionary article in yesterday's issue, broke the forms and burned all the papers they could find. This action is doubtless due to Rochefort's denunciation of the course of that paper, and proves how great is his influence with the people. The journals praise his patriotism and sincere desire for the maintenance of public order.

PARIS TO BE TAKEN BY FAMINE.

The Siecle says it is assured from the best source that in answer to representations of the inhumanity of bombarding Paris, the King of Prussia said he would not have recourse to such extremity. He would take the place by the aid of famine. As it is evident that at least 900,000 troops will be needed to entirely surround the city, the Siecle concludes that all the Prussian reserves will be summoned for the siege. It says this is the reason for the creation of seventy-six new squadrons of cavalry. It adds that it is time France also organized her cavalry.

NO POLITICAL ARRESTS.

No political arrests were made yesterday, which is considered a sign of security and of popular confidence in the Government.

ARRIVAL OF NEW TROOPS.

Two hundred Kabyles arrived yesterday from Algeria, preceding a large force expected to-day. They are fine soldiers and in admirable condition. One thousand six hundred Gardes Mobile arrived yesterday from the provinces, and it is estimated that by this evening the full force of Mobiles within the city will be 100,000. They are billeted upon the inhabitants, but upon none who do not pay over 800 francs annual rent.

THE CATACOMBS LOOKED AFTER.

As there was some uneasiness concerning the safety of the catacombs, the city had them thoroughly examined, but nothing was found likely to give trouble. Every precaution has been taken to insure perfect success.

RESPECT FOR PRINCESS CLOTILDE.

The journals again refer feelingly to Princess Clotilde, who, before leaving Paris, distributed to the poor sums representing the aggregate of the yearly alms she was in the habit of giving.

THE MOATS FILLED.

The moats around Paris have been filled with water, and the Prefect of Police advises all who desire to leave the city to do so immediately.

VICTOR HUGO'S ADDRESS TO THE ADVANCING GERMAN HOST.

Victor Hugo has written an address to the Germans, of which the following is an extract:

"You may take the fortress. You will find the rampart. You may take the rampart. You will find the barricade. You may take the barricade. And then who knows the resources of patriotism in distress. You will find the sewers mines of powder ready to blow the whole streets into the air. This will be the terrible sentence you must accept. To take Paris stone by stone; to slaughter Europe on the spot; to kill France in detail, in each street, in each house. That great light must extinguish soul by soul! Germans! hold back! Paris is formidable! Think a while before her walls! All transformations are possible for her! In her indolence she gives you the measure of her energy. She seems to sleep. She will awake. Her thought will leap from its scabbard like a sword, and the city which was yesterday her Syberize to-morrow may be her Saragossa."

GEORGE SAND SALUTES THE REPUBLIC.

George Sand salutes the new regime in the following words: "The Republic! She must have life in her, since she rises again from her ashes, by the voice of all; without the spilling of blood; without fratricidal strife. Behold the third awakening! It is ideally beautiful. The third! say rather the fourth, for we must not forget 1830 was Republican at the beginning. We have fought for her only to lose her. To-day she rises complete, with a single word, Vive la France. This is the normal state which the conscience of humanity desires. This is the inequitable act of this prodigious toil of humanity. It is well. It is the law of intelligence. The manners of man can only develop in the air of freedom. Behold the God of armies. His name is Country and Liberty. Hail to the Republic! Thou art in good hands and a great people is now marching under thy banner. After a bloody expiation, the task is hard, but should it happen to thee to fall once more thou wilt surely rise again. The rights of man are imperishable.

[Signed] GEORGE SAND, Nahant."

These and similar appeals have an effect on the people and strengthen their determination to defend the city to the last.

ADDRESS TO THE FRENCH PEOPLE BY THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

The Journal Officiel publishes the following address from the government to the French people:

Frenchmen—In proclaiming four days ago a government for national defense we defined our mission. The power had fallen to the ground. He who commenced with crime ended with desertion. We have done nothing but take again the government fallen from powerless hands. But Europe wants to be enlightened. It is necessary that she should learn by unexceptional evidence that the entire country is with us. The invaders must meet in their path not only an immense city, resolved to perish rather than surrender, but a people on their feet and organized, and a representative assembly besides, which could carry everywhere and despite all disasters the living soul of the country. The government accordingly decrees:

Article First. The Electoral Colleges are convoked for Sunday, the 16th day of October, for purpose of choosing a National Constituent Assembly.

Article Second. The election shall be held at regular polling places, in conformity with the law of the 15th of March, 1849.

Article Third. The number of members of the Constituent Assembly is fixed at seven hundred and fifty.

Article Fourth. The Minister of the Interior is charged with the execution of the present decree.

Done at the Hotel de Ville, Paris, 8th day of September, 1870.

ARMING OF THE PEOPLE.

The Journal Officiel makes the following report:

A meeting was held yesterday evening at the Hotel de Ville, attended by the Mayors of twenty arrondissements of the city, and the sub Prefects of the Seine and St. Dennis, and the Mayor of Paris presided over the proceedings, supported by deputies. The business of the meeting was to agree upon measures for the complete arming of the militia of Paris. No speeches were made, but practical observations were exchanged in a friendly manner. The meeting lasted until midnight.

THE ARMISTICE QUESTION.

The question of an armistice seems to be gaining ground. It is announced now that several members of the Diplomatic Corps are taking the initiative in the matter, which was mentioned by them to the Minister of the Interior, and submitted to-day to a Council held at the Hotel de Ville.

Rochefort is extremely popular.

WORK FOR SHARP SHOOTERS.

It is understood General Trochu intends using sharp shooters on a large scale. They are to be stationed in all parts of the enemy's line of march to harrass them.

WILL FIGHT TO THE LAST.

A great number of political meetings were held last night, all of a most orderly character. They all agree in determination to fight till the last. Most all the workshops in Paris are closed.

[Special to N. Y. Herald.]

TROUBLE IN REPUBLICAN COUNCILS—JEALOUSY AND SUSPICION.

The meeting of Reds last night evinces a growing disagreement in the republican ranks, caused by jealousy and suspicion of the present Ministry. I hear upon good authority that the Emperor's mind had been affected for some months. There are complaints that arms are still refused. The citizens of the provinces are not sending men to Paris.

[Cable Special to the Tribune.]

LAST ORDERS—PREPARING FOR THE RECEPTION OF THE ENEMY.

PARIS, September 9—9 A. M.—The inhabitants of the military section of Paris are ordered to quit their habitations forthwith. The Mobiles are summoned to join their corps in forty-eight hours and are coming in rapidly. The Prefect of Police has ordered all persons intending to quit Paris to leave immediately.

Forty thousand copies of the Marseillaise were burned yesterday afternoon and the presses destroyed.

Gen. McMahon is severely wounded in the leg and a prisoner at Bouit, near Sedan.

AN ARMISTICE UNDER CONSIDERATION.

6 P. M.—An armistice is under consideration. The idea was instituted by the diplomatic corps. The question has been submitted to the Provisional Government by the Russian, Italian and Spanish Ambassadors. Jules Favre has received and returned the official visits of the English, Austrian, Italian, American, Turkish, Russian, Spanish and Swiss Ambassadors and the Pope's Nuncio.

SWITZERLAND, TOO.

Switzerland has recognized the Republic of France.

PAROLED OFFICERS GOING TO AFRICA.

SEDAN, Sept. 8.—The French paroled officers are going to Africa and will exchange places of service with officers there.

A regular siege has been commenced at Metz, but negotiations for capitulation continue.

FROM LONDON.

THE PARIS DEFENSES.

LONDON, September 9.—The Standard's Paris correspondent writes that he has conversed with an English engineer now in that city, who affirms that the defenses of Paris are perfect. Paris is filled with the debris of McMahon's army.

ALARMING POSITION OF ENGLAND.

The Times of this morning has an alarming editorial upon the position of England, which it considers as imminently critical. The article says: "The war has dispelled the notion that England is secure and self-possessed in her isolation. The skirts of England's coat are in the wheel of war, and England herself may at any day be dragged into the wheel. The editor deduces from the danger threatening England, the lesson that she should prepare for every contingency, and urges the immediate reorganization of the militia, and vigorous measures for making that branch of the service effective for home duty."

The Morning Post counsels the Prussians to stop and offer peace to the Republic, on terms that shall reimburse Prussia, and yet leave no rankling source of hate to the French. Otherwise, the Post hopes the French will hold their own. The writer then comments on the violent tone of the British press in favor of Prussia, which was lately so obsequious to the Emperor.

[Special to New York Herald.]

ENGLAND SERIOUSLY CONCERNED ABOUT POLITICAL COMPLICATIONS.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The political complications of the war are causing serious concern to the English Government. Fears are entertained that the recognition of the revolution government at Paris may lead to future difficulties.

It is the general belief of the British Cabinet that the French Minister cannot maintain his existence and hence unwillingness to treat with him. England is loth to foster Republics spreading over the continent. In a conversation to-day with a leading member of the English Cabinet, whose name is necessarily suppressed, he expressed the belief that if the Favre Ministry made peace, it would be only with the object of enforcing their rule on France, which means military terrorism in the country and mob law in cities. If they continue the war, they will surely be defeated most disastrously and will in turn become a sacrifice to the indignation of the people. In reply to a question as to what course England is likely to pursue, he said "England's position at present is simply passive. We must take events as they come, treating with the persons of de facto government in authority without official recognition. In case of mediation the difficulty would be removed, because England's appeal could only be made to Prussia."

There is a report to-day that the King of Prussia has declared he would only treat on terms of peace with Thiers. The report is said to have originated in Government sources.

The firm belief is expressed in English financial circles that Paris will not seriously resist the Prussian army.

Since the repudiation of responsibility by the Bank of France in the event of loss by violence, securities amounting to nearly four millions sterling have been sent to England.

[Cable Special to N. Y. Tribune.]

THE EFFORTS TO SECURE AN ARMISTICE—ENGLAND DECLINING, AUSTRIA WILL UNDERTAKE THE TASK—THE RUMORED ALLIANCE WITH RUSSIA.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A private correspondent telegraphs from Paris Friday morning:

"I understand from a French source, on which I can place implicit reliance, that as England has thus far declined to take any steps to induce Prussia to consent to an armistice as preliminary to a treaty of peace involving no territorial sacrifices, and as delay under the circumstances must result in further bloodshed, the Austrian Government has taken the task.

Further particulars received this morning concerning Jules Favre's declaration enable me to say that the account of it sent you yesterday was entirely accurate. All the circumstances I am not at liberty to state, but it is probable Favre's hopes of an immediate alliance with Russia were a little too sanguine. The negotiations thus far have been informal, and in answer to the urgency of the French Minister, Russia intimates that she cannot immediately accept such alliance, nor take hostile steps against Prussia, unless in conjunction with Austria and some other power. England's refusal to interfere is partly traceable to the personal influence of the Queen, to whom Gladstone concedes much, partly to Granville's aristocratic aversion to a Republic, and partly to intimations from Prussia that no neutral interference would be influential. Great pressure has been put on the British Government from Paris, but without result. English residents denounce in bitter terms what they style the pusillanimity of the English Cabinet.

CARE FOR THE WOUNDED IN BELGIUM.

Mr. Sanford, late Minister of the United States, has returned to Brussels from a visit to Bouillon and along the French frontier. He writes a letter to the Independence Belge, in which he asks the Belgian Government to send an official to the frontier to supervise measures for the relief of wounded prisoners. In what already has been done he says the conquerors have acquired fresh title to the respect and esteem of mankind, while forging a new link in the chain binding the brotherhood of nations. The Belgians have devoted the town of Ciergnon, an admirable location, to the reception of wounded, and it is now turned into a great hospital.

EARLY ARMISTICE PREDICTED.

In the embassies at Paris an early armistice is predicted. The Cabinet Ministers are again absent from London.

Communications have passed between the English and the new French Governments, but there has been no recognition of the Republic.

The Empress Eugenie is with the Prince Imperial at Hastings.

VESSELS TAKING REFUGE.

The German bark Johanna Jillson, from Valparaiso, has taken refuge in Plymouth harbor, and the German ship Leopoldine, from Galveston, put into Falmouth, to escape capture. The English ship Clydesdale, from Quebec, was pursued by a French cruiser near Mequillon, but showed her colors and was not molested.

FRENCH PRISONERS IN SAXONY.

Five thousand French prisoners have been distributed among the fortified towns in Saxony.

THE EX-EMPEROR AT WILHELMSHOHE.

LONDON, September 9.—A German correspondent of the Times writes as follows from Wilhelmshohe, September 5:

"The Imperial train reached this station at 9:35 P. M., where the garrison officer, General Plouky, and resident officials of the province had assembled. The Emperor on alighting passed to a carriage, saluting the officers of the corps who were drawn up with presented arms. He looked serious, not crushed. The crowd was silent, respectful and sympathetic."

[Special to N. Y. Tribune.]

THE ORLEANISTS—THEIR PRETENSIONS FAVORED IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, September 9.—A special correspondent of the Tribune writes from Paris, Thursday:

D'Aumale will prove a far more formidable candidate than Count De Paris. The refusal of the government to allow any Orleanists to remain is generally approved. What harms them here is the belief that their pretensions will be favored by the English Cabinet, and that the wife of one of the English Cabinet Ministers is intriguing for them. Stragglers of all kinds are about the streets.

KING WILLIAM TREATS NAPOLEON AS A RULING SOVEREIGN AND WILL TREAT WITH FRANCE ACCORDINGLY.

The New York World's cable has a report that King William has ordered Napoleon to be treated in all respects as a ruling sovereign of France, will permit nothing to be said to him about treating with the Republic, and has made up his mind to insist only on simple security for the payment of expenses of the war and the restoration of the Imperial Government.

NEGOTIATING FOR TURKEY.

The World's special also has a rumor that Russia and Austria are negotiating for a portion of Turkey.

PRUSSIAN COMMUNICATIONS CUT.

There is also a rumor that a body of armed peasantry and Franco-Turcos successfully attacked the Prussian line of communication between Bar Le Duc and Vitry Le Francaise, tore up the rails for several miles and captured a detachment of Saxons.

ITEMS OF FRENCH NEWS.

LONDON, September 9.—Rouher, Persigny, Barochi, Grammont and other Imperialists have arrived in England.

The letter of Henri Rochefort condemning the violence of the Marseillaise newspaper has produced an excellent effect on the public mind. The workmen, who seem to consider Rochefort their particular representative, agree with him that this is no time to create difficulties.

The French women in Belgium are wearing mourning for the dead, slaughtered through Imperial incapacity.

The Imperial family are now all securely out of France. According to some correspondents the life of the Emperor would not be worth a moment's purchase in France, so intense is the indignation at the surrender of Sedan, when the army was confident of victory.

The reported action of the Diplomatic Corps at Paris in favor of peace is denied.

The Paris Observatory is dismantled. All the instruments have been removed to a place of safety.

Notes of a decided character have been addressed to Berlin on the subject of peace by the Cabinets of St. Petersburg and London. It is said Queen Victoria has appealed to Queen Augusta in behalf of peace.

Women and children are only allowed to leave Strasburg. The Prussian fire on the city is incessant, but apparently without result. A practicable breach will not likely be made for a fortnight. The Moniteur of Brussels indignantly repels the charge recently made that Belgians had maltreated the Germans who were driven out of Paris.

FROM PRUSSIA.

PROGRESS OF THE SIEGE OF STRASBURG.

BERLIN, September 9.—The third parallel of the Prussian approaches to the outer works at Strasburg has been completed. The course of the river Ill has been diverted from the channel which it has been supplying with water to the ditches around the fortifications of Strasburg. The fortress has been damaged by the shot and shell, but the cathedral has not yet received any serious damage.

A correspondent telegraphs from Carlsruhe that the garrison at Strasburg is reduced to desperate straits, and is now willing to negotiate terms of capitulation, with, however, certain reservations which cannot be conceded by the Prussians. The French commander has offered to surrender the garrisoned city of Strasburg with the honors of war. The Prussian General refused to concede this privilege, and insisted upon an unconditional surrender of the fortress. The reply of the French commandant, Ulrich, was that he would not capitulate upon any such terms, but would rather risk the gradual reduction of the city. The parley was abruptly broken off, and the Prussian guns reopened fire upon the city. Cannons are being mounted upon the ramparts of the third parallel of the Prussian counter works which has just been completed and the guns will soon be directed against the city. The bombardment from the first and second lines of the Prussian parallels continues. The havoc created in the place is plainly discernable. Sixty thousand troops of Baden and South Germany conduct the investment of Strasburg.

THE ARRIVAL OF NAPOLEON AT HIS APPOINTED RESIDENCE.

The Emperor Napoleon arrived at the chateau of Wilhelmshohe on Monday. He was received graciously, and with his suite was conducted to his appointed residence. He appeared composed and cheerful. Hearing that the Republic had been proclaimed in France, he said: "The Germans on entering Paris will bring about order in the machinery of state there." He, however, manifested no vindictive spirit towards his countrymen.

STRASBURG—GEN. ULRICH'S TERMS OF SURRENDER.

CARLSRUHE, September 8—P. M.—A flag of truce left Strasburg yesterday, conveying a proposition for surrender from Gen. Ulrich. The General proposes a cessation of hostilities, the French garrison of 2,000 men to leave the citadel, which was to remain in the hands of France, but be pledged, however, to fire no guns and take no part in the present war, the remainder of the garrison to be released, officers bearing side arms; the Prussians to hold possession of the city. The terms were immediately rejected, and the unconditional surrender of the city and fortress demanded, the garrison to become prisoners; officers to be released on parole and suffered to wear side arms. Gen. Ulrich then asked permission for all civilians to leave the city. This was refused, except women and children. A supply of lint and medicines was granted. The French commander was allowed forty-eight hours to consider the proposal for an unconditional surrender.

THE ANNEXATION OF ALSACE AND LORRAINE.

BERLIN, September 9.—After a protracted conference among the members of the North German Confederation, it has been decided that the French provinces of Alsace and Lorraine be annexed to Germany and not Prussia individually.

PROTEST AGAINST PAPAL INFALLIBILITY.

MUNICH, September 9.—Twenty-six German professors of law and medicine have added their signatures to the protests of the theological faculty against the results of the Ecumenical Council.

—At Appleton, Wisconsin, Thursday night, C. H. Lewis, a highly respectable young man of that city, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. Mr. Lewis lost his wife a few weeks ago, since which he had labored under great depression of spirits, resulting in insanity and self destruction.

ALL THREE CABLES WORKING.

LONDON, September 9.—The French cable between St. Pierre and Duxbury is now repaired and tests are perfect. All three Atlantic cables are now in complete working order.

NEW YORK, September 9.—The World special has a telegram from Admiral Milne, on board of Her Majesty's ship Lord Warden, off Cape Finisterre, 7th inst., received via Lisbon. He says: The Captain must have foundered during the night close to this ship. At two o'clock this morning a sudden gale came up from the southeast, with a very heavy sea, and at daybreak the Captain was missing. This afternoon we found one of her boats adrift and several of her spars floating. I fear all on board have perished, in number five hundred souls.

ADDRESS OF THE REPUBLICAN DIRECTORY—NO DISMEMBERMENT OF FRANCE.

MADRID, September 8.—The Republican Directory publishes an address to the French Republic, saying the nation should be opposed to the dismemberment of France. To-morrow there will be a great demonstration in favor of France and the Republic.

GREAT POPULAR DEMONSTRATION OF SYMPATHY WITH THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

MADRID, Sept. 9.—A great manifestation of sympathy with the French Republic was made here yesterday. Thirty thousand citizens marched through the streets with banners inscribed with mottoes flattering to the French, and bands playing the "Marseillaise." There was no disorder. After the procession a mass meeting was held. Castellar delivered an address, in the course of which he said: "The conscience of humanity breathes again, witnessing the punishment of the Emperor and the triumph of the Republic."

ACTIVE ARMY PREPARATIONS.

FLORENCE, September 9, 10 A. M.—The Government is actively strengthening the army at every point. Great agitation is reported throughout the country, and the Republicans are organizing rapidly.

The Government organs are leaning towards the occupation of Rome, which is positively determined on. The appointment of General Rucotti as Minister of War is indicative of bold measures.

FLORENCE, September 9.—Martino has carried important propositions to Italy. Gen. Cialdini has been appointed Commander-in-Chief. The army has been mobilized.

THE FRENCH REPUBLIC CIRCULAR.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 9.—The Journal of this city, semi-official organ, says in relation to Jules Favre's late circular: "The French government carries patriotism too far, if rather than yield fortifications and soil no longer valuable it invokes a war of extermination. Prussia will naturally exact double guarantees to secure its noble victories. It is difficult to appreciate the language of M. Favre. He asserts that the cause of France against Prussia is that of right and justice, when only in July his language was precisely the reverse."

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9, 1870.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

The President is now openly and avowedly for the maintenance of the French Republic. He said yesterday: "I have hastened to give the new Republic our moral support, and hope that before the week is out that she will not need anything further. I think the Prussian King may be induced to stop fighting." He talked freely to several gentlemen on the subject, and it will not be surprising if, after the Cabinet meeting to-day, he sends instructions to Minister Washburne to offer his good services as a mediator between the belligerents. In his avowed support of the Republic he is warmly supported by Secretaries Fish and Robeson. The sentiments of the other Cabinet officers are not yet known.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

The following appointments were made to-day by President: E. B. Dennison, of New Mexico, Indian agent in New Mexico; Jasper A. Vial, of Iowa, Superintendent of Indian affairs for Montana: Fellows D. Pease of Montana, Indian agent for Crow Tribe, Montana; W. U. McCauley, Indian agent for Blackfeet and neighboring tribes, vice L. L. Blake returned; C. S. Jones, of D.C., Indian agent for confederate tribes of Indians in Montana Territory, vice M. McCauley; W. J. Cramer, of Kentucky, resident Minister at Denmark; Abner A. Adry, of New York, Secretary of Legation at Madrid; Wm. A. Page, of Virginia, Consul at Port Said, Egypt; Samuel H. Kingman, Consul at Brindisi; Thos. H. Brady, of Indiana, Consul at St. Thomas; J. H. Stewart, of Pennsylvania, Consul at Leipsic; Henry Fox, Consul at Plymouth.

A STATEMENT DENIED.

The statement has been copied into certain newspapers that James Fisk, Jr., or his partner, Jay Gould, paid the ten thousand dollars subscription by the President last year to the fund for the family of the late Gen. Rawlins. There is not only authority for emphatically contradicting this statement, but the additional fact has been ascertained that more than double that amount was contributed by the President. He has, as trustee, invested $38,000 for Mrs. Rawlins in registered bonds, besides paying $5,000 on a house for Mrs. Rawlins in Danville, Conn.

ACTION OF THE CABINET.

The Cabinet to-day talked over the Franco-Prussian war question and finally agreed to what already had been done, and that a dispatch be sent to Minister Bancroft in reply to one from him, in which this government says that "while we cannot act in connection with other nations, yet if our good officers should be requested by the belligerents we would be happy to lend them, with a view of bringing about peace between two great powers with which we have traditional friendship."

PERSONAL.

Secretary Boutwell will return to Washington in about a week or ten days, when the acting Secretary of the Treasury will return to Massachusetts and assume his legal duties as Judge of the Probate Court.

THE ENGLISH MISSION.

The President has not yet designated any successor to Mr. Motley, nor will any name be announced until it is known the person to whom the mission may be offered will accept.

PRESIDENT GRANT.

The President will leave for Long Branch to-day and return to Washington on the 1st of October with his family.

PEACE CONGRESS.

Dispatches received last night from London state that a peace Congress will assemble at Vienna on Saturday.

Another Mammoth Cave Discovered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CORINNE, UTAH, September 7.—A party of men engaged on the new road to connect Cache Valley with the Bear River Valley discovered a huge natural cave, with a stream of water running through toward the entrance. Some of the party with lights penetrated the cave a distance of about two miles without discovering any other outlets. In some places the roof of the cave was so high that it could not be seen with lights. They intend shortly to explore the natural wonder thoroughly.

First Chapter of the Secret History of the War.

In an article in the Staatsanzeiger, the official organ of Prussia, the Government begins to lift the veil under which it concealed its early preparations for the war. It says: "Our military leaders knew well that France would put forth frivolous pretences to bring about a sanguinary collision. And it has now, indeed, come so far that the political eccentricities have been matched by corresponding military measures. A mass of 100,000 French troops were hurried with precipitate haste to the Rhenish borders, while the Prussian batteries were as yet distributed over the garrisons of the monarchy. The start of the French was greatly favored by their network of railways, but far more so by the large bodies of troops massed together in permanent camps. The Prussian situation was not equally favorable. Although immobile troops might have been hurried to the frontier, a different mode of proceeding was preferred. Corps taken away from pacific pursuits might, perhaps, be in a position to gain a momentary success, but they are not organized to brave the vicissitudes of a great war. It was, therefore, deemed well to prepare the forces for the contest in the regular way, and to protect the German territory to some extent by the small numbers which garrison the western boundary. It was fully known that if the enemy were possessed of some energy, it would have been impossible that we should offer strenuous resistance or prevent his subsisting at the expense of a portion of our country. All the German troops remained, therefore, in their garrisons until they were ready to join in the actual operations of the war. The hasty and confused organization of the French army at our borders was opposed by feeble garrisons, and, the commanders being deceived, their army was not placed in a position to live at our expense. It is well known that the main forces of the French were moved toward the Sarre, and especially toward Saarbruck, on the very day when in Berlin the orders for mobilization were issued. In Saarbruck were seen one battalion of the Fortieth Regiment and three battalions of the Uhlan No. 7. The danger of this small division was well known, but it was necessary to impose upon the enemy without disturbing the preparations of the army. During a whole fortnight this intrepid handful faced the enemy, in whose estimation it gained every day greater proportions until it grew in the French journals to the number of 200,000 men. Daily skirmishes of the patrols were represented in the war news of the French as magnificent encounters. On the part of the Prussians these rhodomontades could not be exposed without permitting the secrets at Berlin to be betrayed at Paris. After the arrival of information that two French corps were in close proximity to our feeble detachment, this brave band was on the point of being withdrawn. But the commander, Von Pestel, begged by telegraph to be left at his post, and he added, "The bearing of the French shows that they are afraid of us." This request was readily granted, especially as it was now possible to reinforce the small detachment by two battalions, and moreover to place at a distance of two German miles a body of troops to protect the retreat of these defenders. This brought about the famous first battle of Saarbruck."

French and German Goods.

The private foreign correspondence of the Philadelphia importers of French and German goods complain of the heavy drain upon the producing classes in consequence of the demands of the respective Governments for troops. As an instance, it may be mentioned that in Grenoble, France, where kid gloves are manufactured in large quantities, every available man between the ages of eighteen and forty-five has been drafted into the army, and the only persons left to do the work are the old men, the women and children. In addition, the Discount Bank, in which almost all the manufactures are interested has failed, and it is believed that the supply for England and the United States will be exceedingly short. The dyers, finishers and cutters of gloves have all been drawn into the French army, and the prospect for a full supply of skins is very uncertain, in consequence of the localities where they are obtained being at present overrun by the contending armies. In the countries attached to the North German Confederation the same scarcity of workmen prevails, and in addition, the blockade of the ports has put a stop to the direct trade. The current of business, however, may be diverted to Danish, Russian and Austrian ports, but the increased cost of land carriage will add to the price of the goods.

Gen. Von Moltke's Taciturnity.

General Count Moltke has (says a Berlin correspondent) become more taciturn than ever, and as this is well known, scarcely anybody ever speaks to him, but everybody waits until he speaks. People here are so accustomed to his peculiarities and solitary habits—evidently the result of his constantly pondering over his duties—that they even feign not to see him when he passes. Yet he can express himself very fluently and very clearly on occasions, as I myself can testify, having heard him once explain the topography of the seat of the Danish war. Some few days ago the tacit covvention was broken by an individual who claims to be one of the grandees of the Bourse. "Well, he said, on meeting the General in the street, "how are things getting on, General?" "Thank you, sir," replied the General, "my rye crops are getting on beautifully, but my potatoes are very backward." The Bourse gentleman disappeared.

Brilliant Repartee.

One morning after the campaign of Dresden, Napoleon observed Tallyrand at his levee, and bade him remain, as he wished to talk privately with him. After the company had gone, he went up to Talleyrand and bawled: "What have you come here for? To show me your ingratitude? You give the public to believe that you belong to a party in opposition! You think, I dare say, that were I to die you would be President of the Council of Regency. Now, mark my words: Were I so much as dangerously ill, the first thing I should do would be to have you shot." Talleyrand, with the grace and quiet of a courtier who had just received new favors, bowed low and respectively as he replied: "I did not require, sire, such a warning to address most fervent prayers to heaven to vouchsafe health and long life to your Majesty."

The Kansas Pacific Railroad Excursion.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GEORGETOWN, COL., September 9.—The trains of the Pacific excursion party arrived here at four o'clock this morning in concert coaches drawn by six horses. They changed conveyance. Each mounting saddled horses, they started on their proposed visit to Gray's Peak and other places of resort and interest about sunrise, all in high glee. They reached the peak at eleven A. M., enjoyed the grandness of the scenery and partook of pure mountain air for a short time, then returned, arriving here at from four to five P. M. The coaches were in readiness and when filled started for Idaho Springs, all jubilant and feeling repaid for their hard day's ride to the peak. We believe the entire tour has been a decided success, and that nothing has occurred to mar the pleasure of the excursionists. Each seems highly pleased with the trip and gratified with the general appearance of the Rocky Mountains.

—The yacht race yesterday at New York was won by the Phantom, beating the Cambria and Madeline.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"THE removal villainy" is what the Ebensburg Freeman calls the movement to remove the county seat to Johnstown.

HON. ANDREW STEWART is stumping Fayette county for the Republicans, and Mr. E. C. Pectim, of the Dunbar iron works, is doing the same for the Democrats.

THE Uniontown Genius says: Martha Beeson, residing in Georges township near the line of South Union and that township, killed four large copperheads in her house last Friday, and her little daughter chased another under the floor.

ON Saturday, September 3d, while Mrs. James Henry, of Union township, Clearfield county, was in the act of scrubbing the floor, having procured a pail of hot water for that purpose, her little child came running and accidentally fell into the pail, scalding it so badly that it died on Sunday afternoon following. This is another warning to housekeepers to exercise more care when children are about.

THE Delaware county American says the yellow fever has again made its appearance on the Island of Tinicum, several within the quarantine enclosure and a number outside being afflicted with it. It is said that the families of at least two farmers are down with the disease, and it is known that the wife and two children of Capt. B. F. Miller have been suffering for over a week. There is now a prospect of their recovery, the type being milder than that which first appeared. About thirty-six persons are employed within the enclosure, the place of those dying having been supplied from Philadelphia. Four of the new comers have taken the disease and are now in the hospital. On Saturday last Dr. J. F. M. Forwood, who has been on medical duty there since the death of Dr. Thompson, was attacked, and fears of his recovery are entertained.

IN Indiana the strikers at the Otter Creek mines on Wednesday sent a committee to those who had gone to work, threatening them if they still kept in. Notices are posted in various places warning them, one of which reads as follows: "Jimmy Andrews: We don't want you to go in the mine; we heard you was going in there; if you do you will get hell. We have been after you before, but let you slip. If you do not keep out we will straighten you. You are a miner, damn you. Don't go in; if you do we will take you out. I don't want to hurt you, but if you go in you will get what you seen at the tree. Don't go in. Don't go in Niblock's bank. We don't want to hurt you, but you must not go in. No mine shall run until we get our price." "What you see under the tree," had reference to a number of stout hickory clubs.

NEW NOVEL BY Mrs. OLIPHANT
JUST READY.
The Three Brothers,
BY MRS. OLIPHANT,
Author of "The Brownings," "The Chronicles of Carlingford," etc. One Volume, octavo. Paper Covers. With Illustrations. Price $1.00.
"Mrs. Oliphant possesses such a finished and easy style of writing, that her works are sure to please, whatever may be the subject. In the case of 'The Three Brothers,' we cannot too highly praise the skilful manner in which the adventures of the brothers Benton are unfolded to the reader, and made to engage his interest, notwithstanding their unexciting character. The work, in fact, reminds us of a carefully painted picture by a master, where the subject in itself is lowly and the treatment all in all, and when it is difficult to determine which to admire most—the finish and resemblance to Nature of the several parts, or the poetical treatment of the whole.—London Athenæum.
"Since Mrs. Gaskell's death, Mrs. Oliphant may be considered almost at the head of the second-class lady-writers, George Eliot remaining the one unequaled representative of the first-class. Mrs. Oliphant has, as Mrs. Gaskell had, that rare union of strength and sweetness, of purity and courage, of boldness in dealing with the problems of life, and tenderness in handling them. * * * It is with a certain feeling of gratitude that we undertake the reading of a book such as 'The Three Brothers.' In the dreary flood of unlikely circumstances and next to impossible characters, of all imaginable crimes and of more than human virtues, through which the critic has to wade in his vocation, a book which has real stuff in it, and deals with the likelihoods of human life and character in a rational manner, is a godsend."—London Saturday Review.

THE Commercial last year supported Humphries, Taylor, White and Kerr, and claimed their nomination as its triumph. Now it opposes them. Who has changed? It or they?

THE Republican Conferees of the Twenty-third Congressional District will meet this morning at ten o'clock, at the Monongahela House, to nominate a candidate for Congress.

IT WOULD seem that the ex Emperor Napoleon has made strange choice of a traveling equipage. Under present circumstances one would imagine that the last vehicle he would enter willingly would be a berlin, yet that, it seems, was the one he adopted in which to travel towards his new hotel. Doubtless this was by way of a delicate compliment to his royal host.

ANOTHER TERRIBLE SEA CALAMITY is reported. The British iron clad war vessel "Captain" went down off the coast of Spain, and her precious cargo of five hundred human beings went with her to the bottom. The "Captain" was a new vessel but recently launched, and all along serious doubts were entertained as to her sea-going qualities. The fearful calamity that overtook her is ample evidence that the expressed misgivings as to her staunchness and safety were well founded.

WHEN D. N. White was nominated by the Bolters' Convention he was a marvelously proper man; but when he declined their proffer and agreed to accept the nomination of the regular Convention he became a very bad man—in the eyes of Carnahan & Co. Yet he is the same man now he was then—unchanged in any respect. If he was one of the best men in the county on the 6th of July, as the Commercial then bore witness, he is none the less so now. The different testimony borne to his character, now, by that sheet is to its discredit, not his.

ROCHEFORT, the terrible, the implacable, the irreconcilable, already begins to be conservative and to denounce his former companions. When Prince Hal became King Henry, he dropped such undesirable acquaintances as Falstaff and Poins, and the dignity of office, perhaps, aided by a few months of reflection in Ste. Pelagie, seems to have produced a desire in the mind of the furious revolutionist to imitate the royal example. One is most liable to obtain a different view of turbulence and revolt when looking from the heights of office, than one previously had gazing out of the depths of the opposition.

MR. WILLIAM BRIGHT has been elected President of the Council of the city of Wilmington, by a majority of over two hundred votes. This is a cause of great rejoicing to the Democracy of Delaware. These men have not forgotten the Democrat martyrs in our pro-slavery rebellion, and mean to make a good return for the suffering caused by their treason at that time. This same Bright during our civil war became so violent and seditious in his treasonable language, that he was marched off under a United States guard to Fort Delaware. His rustication there has commended him to the Democracy, and they prove their loyalty and patriotism by to-day honoring a man the Government had to punish for disloyalty.

MR. TAYLOR, the Republican candidate for Congress in the XXIst District, having withdrawn from the field, the conferees met yesterday at the Monongahela House and placed in nomination the venerable Hon. Andrew Stewart, of Fayette county. No better choice could have been made and the election of the old tariff veteran is a foregone conclusion. Mr. Stewart we believe represented that district in Congress fifty years ago, and was then as he has ever been since a living advocate of the tariff question, and to-day with physical and mental health unimpaired, he is perhaps as thoroughly acquainted with the subject of Protection and its bearings on national industry and prosperity as any Statesman in the country.

WITH NAPOLEON fell Queen Isabella's last hopes, and the young Prince of Asturias will probably have to be satisfied with no higher title all his life long. Spain seems at last to be free from all danger from the elder branch of the Bourbon family, and Gen. Prim will need all of his shrewdness and sagacity to fight the Republic. If he had played his cards a little differently he might have made sure of the Presidency or Dictatorship of the Spanish Republic. Now we think he has dallied too long, any future attempts he may make at king manufacturing must fail more completely than ever and we look with confidence to the speedy announcement of the proclamation of the nomination of Castellar to the Presidency of the Republic.

IT NOW APPEARS that Minister Washburne has not forgotten the Germans whom he adopted in France. Under the Emperor the American representative had doubtless but little influence, for this country was known to have no sympathy with the Bonapartes; but as soon as our Government had recognized the Republic, almost the first act of Mr. Washburne, it seems, was to ask for the liberation of German citizens from the prisons, and that request from that source carried much more weight when addressed to M. Favre, than it would have had if made to Count Palikao. This is shown from the fact that the cable states that hundreds of Germans left the next afternoon for their Fatherland. As we are not as fully acquainted with the state of affairs in Paris as Mr. Washburne doubtless is, it is but fair to suppose that gentleman knew better than others when it was best to use his influence for this purpose, and in spite of the generally correct opinions of one of our German cotemporaries, we have no doubt our Minister at Paris has done everything he could for his legal as well as for his adopted constituents in spite of his supposed deficiency in diplomatic education.

"STILL HARPING ON MY DAUGHTER." We would have thought, from the articles in the Commercial, that long before this it would have desisted out of shame, had we not known that "blood from a turnip," is about as readily secured, as to attempt driving a decent respect for itself into it, with anything short of a power that would rob the body of its head. The trunk in such a condition might stand some little chance being respected.

But the Commercial has the Index fever. While the paroxysm is on, we would be delighted if it would inform us, what we have so frequently asked, and which it just as frequently evades. Were the Committee, Messrs. Shiras and Geyer, controlled by the Ring in letting this contract?

Or will it tell us if W. G. Johnston, who was a delegate to the Third Party Convention, and we believe a supporter of that ticket, is one of the Ring? Was W. G. Johnston the lowest bidder for the "Index Books," and if not, why was he given the contract? Is Mr. Johnston a man who would think of offering a bribe for that contract?

To these few questions we desire to have answers, plainly and squarely. No "ifs" or "ands" about them.

AT the organization meeting of the Allegheny County Republican Executive Committee the following resolution was presented by H. M. Long, Esq., and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this committee, speaking on behalf of all the Republicans of Allegheny county, demands a positive pledge from each of the candidates nominated for office by the recent conventions, that he will endorse, abide by and sustain, in every particular, the letter and spirit of the resolutions set forth and adopted by the aforesaid conventions.

While we think there was no positive necessity for such action, inasmuch as the candidates had already virtually pledged to "endorse, abide by and sustain" the resolutions adopted by the conventions which nominated them, still we believe the supplementary action was wise on the part of the committee, as it reassures the people that the text of the platform means more than idle words thrown out for effect or to catch votes. The conventions were in earnest when they set forth the resolutions; the members of the Executive Committee are equally in earnest in demanding formal pledges on behalf of the people from the candidates, and these pledges already given are made in good faith and will be faithfully carried out by those making them when elected.

"Now we have always insisted that the Ring had nothing to do with the last Convention."—The Organ.

Lovely innocent, you are right! "The Ring" (we thought you insisted that there was no Ring at all!) was nowhere. The Mackeys, the Erretts, the Cluleys, et al. were not in the Convention. It was only their counterfeit presentments that made their appearance in the Convention. The Ring took no interest. In fact there was no Ring, and never was! Lovely innocent! You are more lovely now than ever.—Commercial.

Mr. Errett voted for Espy, Fleming, Long, Millar, Warner and Young. Is Mr. Warner or any other of these gentlemen of the Ring?

Mr. Steel voted for Millar, Walton, Robb, Long, Kerr and White on the first ballot and Millar and Walton on the second.

Mr. Mackey voted for Humphries, White, Millar, Taylor, Kerr and Walton.

We deal in facts, the Commercial does not, and that is just the difference between us. We have shown the vote of these gentlemen simply because they have been named subsequently by the Commercial.

From this statement two things are evident. First,—that Mr. Errett got but one of all he voted for, Mr. Mackey voted for every member of the last session and lost Millar and Walton, and that Mr. Steel voted a mixed ticket and got Robb, Kerr and White. Second—That Messrs. Mackey and Steel voted for the Commercial's great Reformer.

For the Cluley's we really do not know how they voted, and are sure that Mr. Samuel Cluley, late Sheriff, was not in the Convention. But the Commercial has our reply and the public have both. We leave them to draw their own conclusions.

TWO WORDS will account for the course of the Commercial—THE SPOILS. That is what it wants and that is all it wants.

When Andy Johnson was President it hesitated for a long time between support of his infamous administration and sustaining the Republican party in opposition to it. One day it was for Johnson and the next partially against him, and then for some time it was neither fish, flesh nor good red herring.

Meanwhile its nominal editor visited Greensburg, saw COWAN, the masculine handmaiden of Johnson, and demanded control of the local appointments here as the price of the Commercial's support.

If that had been conceded, the paper would have supported Johnson, and supplanted the little Republic; and whilst there was hope it would be conceded, it kept its sails trimmed for the expected breeze.

But finally COWAN thought the concern not worth the price; and then, but not till then, the Commercial saw its way clear to support the Republican party.

The same game was played when Grant came in; and its second failure in that direction is to be attributed the hostility of that paper to the President, which crops out unmistakably, now and then.

Its support of the bolters' ticket is to be traced to the same cause—a failure to control the local spoils. If it could only get hold of that coveted prize, the Reform ticket would be without an organ.

The fellow that Patrick Henry tells us of, who didn't care which side whipped in the Revolutionary struggle so that he got pay for the beef he furnished the army, and who, when peace was proclaimed, disturbed the public rejoicing by his hoarse cry of "Beef! Beef!" was not an inapt illustration of the editorial individual who steadily keeps his eye on THE SPOILS.

Ever since the "Reform" movement began the Commercial has sought every opportunity to get a stab at General Grant. It copies paragraphs sneering at him, and even ventures to attack his administration. Let every friend of the President note this circumstance. Every vote given for the "Reform" ticket is a vote against Grant.

MR. JOSEPH WALTON.

The record of Mr. Joseph Walton at Harrisburg last winter, was such as to warrant his political condemnation by all right minded thinking citizens. His undue energy in seeking to rob the public treasury—or in other words to take from the pockets of the people the enormous sum of nine million five hundred thousand dollars, under the guise of State improvement, which meant the enrichment of those in the railroad ring, by the total depletion of the Sinking Fund—his activity in advancing this scheme and procuring its hasty passage even after the warning note had been sounded by the honest journals of the State and of his own district, his heedlessness of correct public sentiment in order to make a good thing on his own account, are all remembered by the constituency he so faithlessly represented last winter at Harrisburg. But he would continue in his reckless course. He would justify his conduct even at this late hour, and, evincing the spirit of non-repentance in the very face of settled public opinion which condemns him, he promises to repeat the attempt to rob the treasury of its sinking fund if again sent to Harrisburg. Will the people prove blind to their interests as tax-payers, blind to the best interests of the Commonwealth at large and again clothe this man with the office he has so wantonly abused, and again confide to him the trust he has so openly violated. We think not. Nay, we are confident that Mr. Walton will be permitted to retire into the privacy of his coal mines to do penance for his past legislative transgressions, and in their cimerian darkness contemplate the depth of the political oblivion into which he has been plunged by that one act of dishonest legislation. But he would set up a defense of his conduct, and he brings forward a thread-bare report in justification of his action on the bill which he made to the President and Directors of the Chartiers Railroad Company some time ago. In this he says: "The idea of taking $9,500,000 out of the sinking fund was a matter I had never thought of, and was mentioned to me by other parties during the last few weeks of the session." Why not give the names of those other parties who so suddenly thought of disturbing this sacred public trust? Did not Mr. Walton, several weeks before it was introduced, ask one of his colleagues if he would vote for such a bill, if presented? Why was it that, a week before this infamous scheme was introduced, its friends, who knew what was forthcoming, had a resolution passed providing for a session of the Lower House on Wednesday night of the following week to consider general bills? How was it that, on the same day this night session was to be held, the trap was sprung in the Senate, and the bill whipped through that body under a suspension of the rules, and, moreover, how was it that it appeared in the House already transcribed in order to be immediately passed by that body on that very same night? Is it usual to have so much rapidity of action displayed on bills of such magnitude and of so much importance to the taxpayers of the State? If it was a fair transaction, for the good of the Commonwealth, why was shown so much uneasiness about it, and why was it insisted that it should pass both Houses on the same day? These are plain questions and might be readily answered.

The GAZETTE opposed, from the earliest inception of the scheme, all raids on the Sinking Fund, and will continue to expose all designs on that trust, no matter on whose shoulders may fall the odium and disgrace. Governor Geary, in his wisdom, vetoed the measure, and but recently sent greetings to the people of the Commonwealth urging them to see to it that no man who worked and voted for that bill of iniquity should again be sent to the Legislature. For the danger is not past. The attempt to obtain the Sinking Fund and divert it from its legitimate purposes will again be made. Walton was a champion of the bill, a leader in the movement. Can the Republicans of Allegheny county afford to send him back to again betray his trust? Emphatically we say no, let the people say what they may.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The question of theological education is likely to be discussed more than heretofore. We mean the training of students for the ministry. It is, however, viewed principally from two standpoints—first, the necessity of more biblical training, and less doctrinal; and secondly, that if students were more thoroughly and evangelically trained, there would be less defection to their sacred vows, after they have entered the ministry. The Independent represents the first (broad) view, and argues that too much attention is paid to systems of dogmatic theology, which ought to be regarded simply as formal statements of truth, and that special attention should be given to the thorough study of the Scriptures, to fit the minister to comprehend the exact meaning of the inspired writer, and enable him to say at once, how much, if any given doctrine is of the Bible, and how much mere human opinion. Exponents of the latter now contend, that much of the recreancy of ministers arises from the lack of a suitable theological education. This is true in a general way, and also in a particular sense, that denominational institutions having under their care young men preparing for the ministry, more care should be taken to have the grand candinal principles of Christianity so fully impressed upon them, and so clearly defined, that when they enter the work, they will not be undecided on some peculiar doctrines, and, after a time change their relation to one more in sympathy with the new light they have received, on doctrines they had doubts, when they first entered upon their public ministry.

The New York Herald has quite a sensational article Thursday morning of last week, headed "Great Safe Robbery," representing that one hundred and fifty thousand dollars had been taken from the safe of the Methodist Book Concern, at New York, in "money and valuables," and that the burglars secured "several wallets containing the life time earnings of humble preachers," and such stuff as this. But the facts seem to be thus: Burglars opened the safe of the Mission Rooms, and took therefrom fifteen thousand dollars of "Jersey City War Loan Bonds and about three hundred dollars in cash." The burglars also attempted to enter the Book Rooms, but failed. The bonds could not be used by the burglars, and, according to a dispatch the bonds and money have all been recovered.

The sixty-first annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions will be held in Brooklyn, New York, commencing on the 4th day of October next. The sermon on that evening will be by Rev. J. F. Stearns, D. D., of Newark, N. J., at the Church of the Pilgrims.

Rev. William H. Milburn, the noted "Blind Preacher," recently returned from a lecturing tour in California. While at San Francisco he was offered the rectorship of an Episcopal church in that city, at a salary of six thousand dollars in gold.

The Directors of the United Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Allegheny City, have arranged for the delivery of a Course of Lectures on Pastoral Theology, every Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, commencing the second Wednesday in October, and continuing until the 3d of March. Provision has also been made by the Directors for supplying the department made vacant by the death of Dr. Pressly.

A Convention of Elders of Xenia United Presbyterian Presbytery, was held some days ago at Xenia, Ohio, for the purpose of awakening and bringing into active operation the latent talent of the laity, and use it for the advancement of Christ's cause. Among the questions discussed was the following: "The duty of private (Church) members, and the best means of bringing out and making efficient this power in building up the Church of God." "The duty of Elders in their relation to the Pastor; and the means to be used by them in promoting the best interests of the congregation and the advancement of the cause of Christ." The work of Church members in the first named question was set forth in the following strong words: (1) "Devoting a little of all our means to the support and spread of the Gospel; (2) gentlemanly, Christian kindness and politeness to non-professors, both when we meet them at the sanctuary and in every day associations. Again, the foregoing of all display or excess in apparel, by means of which the poor are often shut out from the pews of fashionable churches." Another meeting is to be held at Xenia, Ohio, in January, and will include the clergy as well as the laity.

Reference was made not long hence to the action of certain Catholic religious societies in Massachusetts, in regard to extravagant display at funerals, and especially, the unnecessary cost on such occasions, and recommending the number of carriages to be in a funeral cortege. The American New Church Congregational Union have had this subject under discussion, and took action deprecating the fashionable custom of expensive mourning apparel and displays at funerals. The report shows that the custom which makes long train of carriages, a great display of floral tokens, and expensive mourning dress as necessary to the proper observance of the dead, is extremely burdensome to people of small incomes, who yet feel compelled to bear the expense, rather than incur the imputation of caring but little for the deceased relative.

The Presbyterian Banner announces that Rev. W. P. Moore, pastor of the Manchester Presbyterian church, (Allegheny city) has been laid aside from active duty for a time by a hemorrhage of the lungs.

The Johnstown Presbyterians have resolved to build a parsonage as their contribution to the Memorial Fund. It will be called the "Memorial Manse."

A United Presbyterian congregation is to be organized by Rev. J. C. Wilson at Remington Station, several miles from the city, on the line of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad.

Rev. Dr. Scudder, pastor of the Howard Presbyterian church, San Francisco, has divided his congregation into districts for the purpose of raising money for the Five Million Fund. This plan is an admirable one and insures thorough work.

A correspondent of the Presbyterian, of Philadelphia, commends the editorial of that paper on Ministers without Charges," to which we referred not long since. The writer thinks the genius of Presbyterianism is, that Presbyteries and Synods shall be composed of bishops and ruling elders in equal numbers. This could'nt be, if ministers without charges should be classed as bishops and sit in Church Courts. He also proposes in another article to establish from the Presbyterian Form of Government, that it confers on none but bishops and ruling elders the right to sit as rulers in their judicatories.

A Presbyterian organization has been effected among the Holland population of Chicago, by the Rev. E. Van Noorden, who has been laboring among them since May last. Two lots have been purchased, and a plain church structure will be erected. This is the first foreign church of the Presbyterians in Chicago.

The Presbyterian woods meeting, in a grove within the limits of New Castle, last week, was quite a success. The Banner says: The attendance was large and much interest prevailed. At the celebration of the Lord's Supper, we believe five or six hundred persons partook, connected with twenty-two Presbyterian and five Methodist churches. Rev. Dr. D. X. Junkin was the presiding officer.

According to the Episcopalian, Rev. Mr. White, Protestant Episcopal minister, lately of Newburyport, Mass., had been supplying the Presbyterian Church there during the pastor's absence.

Alsace and Lorraine.

Alsace, one of the most fertile and productive departments of France, is separated from the grand Duchy of Baden by the river Rhine; its southern boundary is the canton of Basle in Switzerland, while toward the north it borders on Rhenish Bavaria. It has belonged to the German Empire since 870, and formed part of the Duchy of Suabia from 980 to 1268. The French have divided it into two departments, the "Bas-Rhin" with Strasburg and the "Haut-Rhin" with Colmar as capitals.

The Lorraine (Lothringen) is situated between the "Campagne" and Alsace, and extends toward the north to the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg and to the Prussian Rhenish provinces, in the south to the "Franche-Comte." It is divided into four departments — those of the Meurthe the Vosges, the Moselle, and the Meuse.

The conquests of France during the last two centuries and the cooperation and assistance of Germans themselves, succeeded in alienating Alsace from the German Empire. The Austrian possessions (285 communities, with a population, at the present time, of over 227,000) were ceded to France by the Westphalian treaty of peace at the end of the thirty-years war (1648); the free cities in the part of the German Empire (159 communities, with 226,000 inhabitants) were forced into submission to French rule by the so-called Reunions; while the Republic of Strasburg and the bishop with his extensive domaine (160 communities, with 262,000 inhabitants) voluntarily placed themselves under the protection of the French kings. Through the acquisition of Lorraine and the transfer of a few German principalities in the Alsatian province to France, 42 communities with 47,000 inhabitants were absorbed during the eighteenth century, while the rest of the country, comprising several German principalities and the Republic of Muhlhouse (230 communities with 289,000 inhabitants) followed during the time of the French Revolution.

In cities like Muhlhouse and Strasburg, the presence of numerous French officials and of whole regiments of French soldiers drafted in the exclusive French provinces of the Empire, has no doubt exercised a material influence upon the language of the people, inasmuch as all traders and retail dealers see the advantage to be derived from the knowledge of the French language—the only one they can make use of in their intercourse with these classes. But, observing these same people at home, around the domestic hearth, or in their social intercourse with those who spring from the same root, one is astonished to hear the French idiom replaced by either the German patois, the Allemanic idiom, or, as is the case among the higher and better educated classes of citizens, by the pure German language. This is indeed significant, and goes far to prove that all the restrictive and prohibitory measures have been abortive. The fact that the people, almost without exception, make use of the language of their ancestors, as soon as they find themselves free from external pressure, elucidates, better than all official records on the subject, how deeply rooted is their attachment to their native language. And not only in the use of the language, but in the silent yet so eloquent observance of the customs, manner of life, and the cherished habits of their forefathers—to which they cling with a kind of religious tenacity—do they show that they are still Germans at heart, just as much, perhaps, as they were a century ago.

In the Department Bas-Rhin the entire population is computed according to the census of December 31, 1861, at 577,574 inhabitants, 571,684, in 532 communities, were Germans. In the Department Haut-Rhin there lived 515,802 inhabitants, of which 336,443, in 359 communities, were Germans. In the Departments Meurthe and Vosges were found in 174 communities 101,563 Germans, or a total of 189 communities and 844,128 inhabitants, and in the Department of Moselle, in 344 communities, there were 250,118 Germans, or an aggregate population of 446,457 inhabitants. To sum up: Out of a total population in the five Departments of 2,383,961 inhabitants 1,359,158 were Germans.

THOSE pleasant fellows, the Philadelphia firemen, set fire to a tool house and office on Thursday morning in order to bring out the Western Engine b-hoys. When these gentlemen came racing up with their hose carriage it was siezed by the gentlemen in waiting, who ran down to the Schuylkill with it and threw it into twenty feet of water, where it probably still lies.

THE SHIVERING SEASON.

The loss to the laboring classes of the United States caused by fever and ague, has been estimated at upwards of two millions of dollars per annum. Whole settlements are sometimes prostrated by the disease, and it is regarded in some localities, as one of those visitations of providence which cannot be avoided. This is a mistake. As certainly as any of the evils which are invited by neglect may be forestalled by precaution—so certainly may an attack of intermittent (or remittent) fever be prevented by invigorating the system with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in advance of the season, at which this malady prevails. Prevention, it is needless to say, is the wisest policy; but it is consoling to know that where time has not been thus taken by the forelock, and the paroxysms have actually commenced, a complete cure may, in all cases, be rapidly effected by the use of this powerful vegetable tonic. The reputation of the Bitters as a specific for dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation and nervous debility, has in some measure thrown into the shade its merits as a preventive and cure of other ailments, but all who have ever taken it, either as a protection against or a remedy for malarious fevers, will admit that it surpasses in efficiency all the so-called specifics (including quinine), usually prescribed for these maladies, while it is at the same time entirely harmless and decidedly palatable.

GRATES! GRATES!
GRATES!
Keep Your Houses Clean,
AND
BY USING THE
Wellman Patent Reflector Grate,
WHICH STANDS WITHOUT A RIVAL.
We claim for it the following advantages over any other in use:
1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity.
2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—very little soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.
3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.
4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.
5th. It is highly ornamental.
6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.
7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.
Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.
Parties who are building, or who contemplate changing Grates, are respectfully requested to examine "The Wellman" Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhoea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. [illegible] Office hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. [illegible] Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. MONEY AND COMMERCE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 9, 1870.

Wall street was quiet, but a better feeling under the more peaceful tenor of foreign news, and increased purchases of Bonds yesterday by the Treasury. The Central and Hudson Railroad declared 4 per cent. dividend on Stock and Script, payable October 15th. Money easier at 4@6 on call. The street gained over two million currency from the Treasury operations of the week. Applications for discount are heavy; prime 7@9 per cent.; good names on the street bring 1½@1 per month. Sterling quiet and steady 9⅝. Shipments of specie to-morrow are estimated at $500,000 to $800,000, although as yet only half a million is packed, half of which is double eagles out of the Treasury.

Gold stronger, opening at 113⅝, touched 114⅛ and closed at 114@114⅛.

Borrowing rates flat to 1-32 per cent.

The clearances were $60,000,000.

Governments dull. Coupons: of '81, 114⅝@15; '62, 12⅜@12½; '64, 11⅜@11½; '65, 11⅜@11½; new, 10⅞@10⅛; '67, 10⅞@10⅝; '68, 10⅝@10⅞; 10-40s, 5⅞@6. Currencies 11@11⅛.

Pacific Railroad securities firmer. An official denial was given of the rumor of the defalcation in the Union Pacific. Central, first mortgage 88⅞; Union 81; Income Bonds 73.

State bonds weak; Missouris 90⅝; old Tennessee 62; new 60⅝; old Virginia 66⅝; new 67; old North Carolina 50½; new 28⅝.

Stocks very dull and lower, but closed steady. There was an unsettled feeling from rumors of a panic in breadstuffs in Chicago. PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, September 9, 1870.

The breadstuffs market continues to be watched with considerable interest at this particular time, all over the country, and it is not at all surprising as it is a matter in which all are more or less interested. As might be expected opinions are very conflicting in regard to the future. The Chicago Republican says: "It is generally believed, however, that the war in Europe is inevitably at an end, and that there will not be experienced that demand for American breadstuffs as would have been the case had the war been more extended." Now to say the least, this is very doubtful. The probability is that the export demand for breadstuffs will be just as active after the war as it was before, as it is well known that the crops were very light this year, and war or peace, Europe will be obliged to draw heavily on this country for supplies. The Republican continues as follows:

"Then an extensive crop has just been harvested, and stocks at the principal grain centers in the country are larger than usual at this season. This is all favorable to the bear side of the market. On the other hand it is safe to say that the foreign demand for our breadstuffs will no doubt be much greater than many anticipate. It must be remembered that the war has been in progress only about thirty days, and the countries have been feeding off the stock they had on hand. As a result of this—for they are receiving very small amounts now—stocks must soon become much reduced, and as the crops of both France and Prussia have no doubt been greatly injured by the march of armies and consequent destruction of property, it is safe to presume at least that this country will experience an enhanced demand on foreign account. Within a week past, dispatches from New York have noted the fact that liberal purchases are being made on German and French account, and we look for a large increase in this direction before many weeks. The low prices ruling will undoubtedly cause many purchasers to hold back their stocks, the situation being favorable to higher figures."

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, September 9, 1870.

All morning the refined oil market was dull and neglected, but towards evening it became quite brisk and lively, with an advance on early deliveries, caused by some parties calling their September oil for delivery on the 20th, instead of the usual day, viz: the 30th. The market for later deliveries was not effected by this move, and remained about stationary at yesterday's prices. Crude was dull all day, with little doing, and towards evening quite a small panic was created by the confirmation of news of the striking of a very large well at Brady's Bend, said to be about one thousand barrels per day, throwing the oil thirty feet above the derrick through the casing. The news, of course, could but have one effect on the market, causing a very preceptable weakness, as mentioned above, and bringing sellers into the market who previously had been shy of making offers. If the above information shall prove genuine, it will add with the two other strikes, mentioned yesterday, fully fifteen hundred barrels. Surely there appears to be no end to the oil product, but the business has increased in such vast proportions during the last five years that there appears to be a market for it.

CRUDE.

Market was dull all day, and closed weak and lower under the influence of the reported one thousand barrel well. Sale 4,000 seller all year at 9⅝; and 2,000 seller till October 15th at 10. Market closed at 9⅝ seller all year; 9⅝, till December 1st; spot 10⅛; lines October to December, 9⅝.

REFINED.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, September 9, 1870.

The indications are that the iron trade will be all if not more than has generally been expected, this fall, and that business will be brisk and satisfactory. Already all the mills have started up and some of them are running double turn, from which it is evident that orders are flowing in pretty freely, and there is not much doubt but what stocks both of bar iron and nails are pretty well reduced. We noted in our last report that the Wheeling mills were about to resume operations; we can now state that they have commenced, having started up during the early part of the week, and this being the case, it is evident that the difficulty between the mill owners and their skilled workmen has been adjusted.

The operations in metal have again been light this week, and the market is devoid of anything new or important. The mills are still pretty well supplied, and with only a moderate demand, there is but comparatively little doing and no material changes in prices.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly with 2 feet 10 inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather clear and pleasant.

The W. F. Curtis arrived and departed with a good trip each way—about all she could carry on the water.

The Messenger is announced to depart for New Orleans on the first water.

The hull for W. H. Brown's new boat has arrived.

The hull for Capt. Stockdale's side wheeler, it is expected, will be launched in about ten days.

—General Weitzel has said that he will open the new canal to steamboats on the 16th day of November. He meant what he said, and there need be no uneasiness about the matter. He has closely watched the progress of the work, and in cases where it semed to lag, has ordered a night force of laborers to be put on. When opened, on the day above mentioned, boats 80 feet wide may pass through. We have seen it stated that when the canal is reopened, the toll would be reduced from fifty cents per ton to ten cents, but we do not see how this can be done at this time. There is a bonded debt of about $1,200,000 on the canal, the interest on which is due January 1st, 1871. The reduced toll would not be sufficient to raise money to meet it.

—We clip the following from the St. Louis Democrat: Commodore Wm. J. Kountz, who is becoming one of the heaviest steamboat owners in the west has arrived from Pittsburgh and will remain for several days, the guest, no doubt of our citizen Hiram Hazlett. One of the Commodore's steamers, Carrie V. Kountz, is on her way here to be caulked, after which it is likely that she will load for Red River.

—We are glad to learn that Pilot Ambrose Dennis is improving. Since the Fleetwood came out in September, 1866, Mr. Dennis has been one of her pilots, he has never been docked a day, or missed a watch, up to the time he met with his misfortune. At the time of the accident the boat was on her eigty-first trip.—Cin. Enquirer.

—The St. Joseph Herald of Saturday says: The United States dredge boat Octavo is at our wharf. She has a number of engineers on board, and is on a voyage of discovery to Omaha.

—The Sam Parker expects to load at Portland for St. Louis. She will probably tow to Cairo the new boat built at Jefferson for the Memphis and St. Louis Packet Co.

The Natchez resumes her regular trips Saturday. M. Pauley, one of her engineers, is quite sick at his home in St. Louis.

—Captain Tobe Spencer's new boat Jessie has taken the place of the Parkersburg and Gallipolis packet Emma Graham.

—The Petrolia No. 2 takes the place of the sunken Fairy Queen in the White and Black River mail trade.

—Schilling & Jackson's wharfboat at Parkersburg has been thoroughly overhauled at Middleport.

—The boat for Commodore Wm. F. Davidson, now lying at Madison, is to be called City of Quincy.

—The new steamer Gladiona, Capt Ben. F. Fulton, has entered the N. O. and Bay ou Pierre trade.

—The Mountain steamers Bertha and Deer Lodge are both for sale at St. Louis.

—The body of a boy was found in the river at Moundsville. Not recognized.

—The Elkhorn is being altered into a side wheel transfer boat at St. Joseph.

—Captain John Brunner has purchased the Belle of Alton.

The greater part of the road is already completed, and the earnings from the finished portion are already more than sufficient to pay operating expenses and interest on the bonds. The balance of the work is progressing rapidly, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road. The established character of this line, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors as, in every respect, an undoubted security.

These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at no distant day to command a market price considerably above par, besides paying about 9 per cent. currency, interest in the meanwhile. U. S. Five-twenties at present prices only return 5 per cent., and we regard the security equally safe.

HOME NEWS.

Room to Let.—A well furnished room on second floor GAZETTE Building, suitable for an office. Apply at GAZETTE Counting Room.

Yesterday Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of Kate Fisher, charged with stealing $6.00 from Charles Seymore.

J. M. Walters was before Deputy Mayor Nichols yesterday, charged with choking Ernest Jones, and then pitching him into the gutter. He was held for trial for assault and battery.

Deputy Mayor Nichols yesterday imposed a fine of $5 on the driver of a brewery wagon, for allowing his vehicle to stand on the track of the Citizens' Passenger Railway, and obstructing car No. 34.

Elias Duffey was arrested drunk last night and taken to the tombs on a wheel-barrow. She enjoyed the ride very much, the luxurious vehicle being furnished by our well-known foreign fruit merchant, Mr. Frank Molinero.

Josiah Baldorf and Nicholas Meaner had cross suits for assault and battery before Alderman Floyd yesterday. They had a fight about the ownership of a piece of carpet and hence the suits. Hearings will be had to-day.

Alderman McMasters yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Hugh McGinty for misdemeanor. McGinty is charged with hiring a horse and buggy from Edward Hoskins, a livery stable keeper, and loading the vehicle with himself and three companions. The pressure was too great and the buggy gave way.

Malicious.—Fred Hillebuch made information before Deputy Mayor Nichols yesterday, charging Mathias Goetz with malicious mischief. The prosecutor built a house for the defendant who not being satisfied with the job, tore out the grates and otherwise destroyed a portion of the work. The defendant gave bail for trial.

Unaccountable Absence.—Yesterday Oliver Fitzsimmons made information before Alderman McMasters against Wm. Gamble for horse stealing. The accused hired a horse of the prosecutor several days ago for an hour's ride, since when it is alleged he has not been heard of, hence the supposition of theft. Warrant issued.

Would you enjoy the real luxury of a smoke, try Megraw's Club segars. You can get a supply at 45 Ninth street. Megraw also can furnish wholesale or retail purchasers with anything in the tobacco line, from a toby to the finest Havana, or a meerschaum to the common clay pipe. No. 45 Ninth street is the great headquarters for cigars.

New and Elegant designs in queensware at the warehouse of the Keystone Pottery, No. 261 Liberty street. Fruit jars, the latest patent, in large quantities, fine Bristol ware and crockery, parlor vases and ornaments. Messrs Kier & Co. have a large stock of their specialty, and housekeepers in purchasing queensware should patronize their establishment.

Disorderly Quartette.—James Moore, Sam. Moore, Robert Thompson and William Dean were yesterday charged before Deputy Mayor Nichols with disorderly conduct. Mrs. Margaret George was the prosecutrix. She alleges the young men stopped two of her little daughters in the street, and made indecent proposals to them. The accused gave bail for trial.

Shoveled.—John McFadden was shoveled in an unpleasant way yesterday. He says while passing up Third avenue he was called into Jackson's livery stable by Matthew Morrow. Responding to the summons he alleges Matthew attacked and knocked him down with a shovel—for what reason he does not know. Alderman McMasters has issued a warrant for Morrow's arrest.

Disorderly.—Herman Deitrieb made information before Justice Heisel yesterday, charging George Meslein with disorderly conduct. He alleged that George came to his premises and acted in a disorderly manner. At the same time and place Herman made information charging Mrs. Orban with a similar offence, alleging that she had abused his wife. Warrants were issued for the accused.

Unfortunate Boy.—George Shannon who resides in "Skunk" Hollow is in trouble. He was yesterday charged before Alderman Taylor by Mary Moore with assault and battery. Mary says he beat her little son unmercifully without cause. A warrant for Shannon's arrest was issued.

Mrs. Moore also made a similar complaint against John George and his wife. They are all residents of "Skunk" Hollow. Warrants issued. Little George seems to be an unfortunate youth.

The advantages of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Register as a reference can only be appreciated by those who have been benefitted through its instrumentality. In looking over the September issue we are surprised at the vast amount of property offered for sale through its pages. The man of small means, as well as the capitalist, need only get it to find what his mind is fixed upon. It embraces property of all sizes, prices and locations and is the most valuable of references with regard to real estate matters. The editorial department is conducted with great skill, and when we consider that the work is a gratuitous publication we are surprised at the excellence of the articles contained therein. The publishers, Messrs. Croft & Phillips, have certainly displayed wonderful enterprise and skill in conducting their business, as their agency now, through their own energy and perseverance only, occupies the most widely known, responsible and prominent position in this Commonwealth. While others were following the old and beaten track they struck out on a new course, and are now far in the van of anything in that line in Pennsylvania. And the result is, as with all successful enterprises, they have to contend with many difficulties with unscrupulous "hangers on," whose contracted energies will not permit them to strike out boldly and fight the battle of life with credit to themselves and their name. See the article entitled "Real Estate Agencies," in the editorial department of the September Register.

Burglar Foiled.

About three o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Freckman, residing on Bingham street, Birmingham, was awakened by a noise in his room, and on turning up the gas which was near his bed, discovered a man in the room. He jumped out of bed and made for the burglar, who made his escape by jumping out of a second story window, which was hoisted. An examination of the premises showed that the thief had taken nothing, and it is probable that he had just entered the room when discovered.

Runaway Accident.

Yesterday morning the horse attached to a gardeners wagon, while proceeding along West street, Third ward, Allegheny, became frightened and suddenly started off on a gallop. The driver attempted to stop the animal, when one of the reins broke. In reaching out to get it again, he was thrown from the wagon to the ground. His left hip was dislocated. Medical attention was procured and subsequently the victim was removed to his residence, Spring Garden avenue. His name could not be ascertained.

New Stock.

Mr. W. G. Dunseath, during a recent visit east, purchased a large stock of new goods for his establishment, Fifth avenue, below the Opera House. The goods have just been received and consist in part of fine jewelry, of all kinds, watches, clocks, statuary and ornaments for the house. Particularly noticeable is the large and well selected assortment of ladies' gold watches, which, though of the best material and workmanship, are offered for sale on very reasonable terms. In the line of jewelry there is everything a lady could desire. The statuary and household ornaments, for variety and elegance, would be hard to excel. The store, in short, is now filled with an exceedingly choice collection of goods, which persons intending to purchase would do well to examine.

Man's Inhumanity.

An affectionate son in Allegheny manifested his filial love Thursday evening by expelling his mother from his house. The lady is eighty-seven years old and has been living with her son since his marriage, several years ago. Recently, however, it is said, his wife conceived a dislike to her mother-in-law, and the result was the old lady had to leave. There was no provision made for her, and she was compelled to seek refuge in the house of a kind-hearted neighbor. Yesterday she was observed wandering through the street, with all her worldly possessions packed up in a handkerchief. Too old to work and with no one to look to for support, starvation or the Poor House were her only alternatives. The dutiful son is said to be in comfortable circumstances and abundantly able to provide for her, even away from his own home. It is to be hoped that what affection would not prompt him to do, the law will.

Stolen Furs Recovered.

Several weeks since Mrs. McCutcheon, residing on Second avenue, lost a set of furs valued at $65. She hung them on a back porch to air in the morning and when she went for them in the evening they were gone. The police were notified and diligent search was made but no trace of the furs could be obtained. A few days since Mrs. McCutcheon informed Officer Long that she had reason to believe that Pamelia Ann Matilda Jane Cotton, a colored girl who at the time the furs were stolen resided at an adjoining house, over which Mrs. Montague presided, had stolen them. The officer procured a search warrant for the arrest of the girl and yesterday took her into custody. She at first denied any knowledge of the furs whatever, but finally acknowledged that they were in her possession at 46 Pasture street, but stated that they had been given to her by a girl who boarded with Mrs. Montague. She was locked up for a hearing.

Parliamentary Literary Society.

A Literary Society, embracing adults of both sexes, will be organized in the hall of Curry Institute on Monday, the 19th inst., at half-past seven o'clock P. M.

It will be a special object of this Society, while affording all the facilities for mental discipline and literary culture of a first-class Literary Society, to teach its members how to organize, appoint the officers, and arrange and transact the business of every kind of deliberative body, according to the most approved parliamentary or legislative usages; and any one who has mingled in promiscuous meetings, our legislative halls, or even in our church courts, knows how much time and talent are wasted for the want of just such knowledge.

The Society will hold its regular meetings once a week for a term of ten months, and any person of good character can become a member now by paying an initiation fee of five dollars, which covers all the necessary expenses, including the use of hall, fuel, light and janitor's services.

Persons wishing to become members can secure their tickets of admission by calling at the rooms of Curry Institute any day next week.

RELIGIOUS ENTERPRISE.

New Church Edifice—A Prosperous Congregation.

Probably by no city of the Union is Pittsburgh surpassed in the interest taken, and taste displayed, in her church edifices. Her temples are to be found on almost every street, and the business houses of some of our very best squares are interrupted by the "House of God," rearing its head above that of its neighbors, and pointing to the Christian's Home above. Our attention has been called to a new church, just completed, located on Eighth street, erected by the First Reformed Presbyterian congregation, (O. S.) Pittsburgh. The location is very desirable, quiet and retired, yet within a few steps of that great thoroughfare, Penn street. The lot is on the east side of the street, is eighty by ninety feet, on which is erected a plain but neat brick building, eighty-eight by sixty-four feet. The front is pressed brick, the doors and windows of which are ornamented with cut stone. The windows are of stained glass, containing beautiful but modest figures. The heating and ventilating apparatus are of the most approved kind. The gas-light reflectors in the ceiling distribute a beautiful light. They were furnished by the firm of Messrs. Jarvis, Becker & Co., and display a good degree of skill and good taste. The carpeting and cushioning both have been tastefully selected. The pulpit furniture is chaste and neat. In fact, the whole house presents a cheerful and inviting appearance, reflecting credit to those who had charge of the erection of the building, especially to the contractor, James Gilleland, Esq., of Allegheny. The entire cost of the church is from $50,000 to $60,000. This congregation has been signally prospered since its organization. About three years and a half ago, some fifty-nine members of Dr. Sproull's congregation, Allegheny, most of whom resided in Pittsburgh, composed the organization, since which time they have worshiped in the Fourth ward school hall. It is well known that this congregation belongs to a denomination of Christians who advocate the principle, that it is the duty of nations to recognize God in their constitutions, Jesus Christ as the ruler of the nations, and the Scriptures as the basis of legislation. This being a distinctive feature of their belief many crowded to hear for themselves, the result being an increase of two hundred and forty members since the time of their organization, while many strangers yet attend and evince the deepest interest in having advocated these principles. The pastor, Rev. A. M. Milligan, is an earnest, faithful worker, anxious that others may understand that which he maintains to be truth. The congregation has displayed a degree of energy almost unparalleled in their subscriptions to the building, and have thus far met every requirement, and expect to be entirely free of debt in about six months. In our advertising columns will be found a notice of the opening services on to-morrow (Sabbath) in the church on Eighth street.

IN THE FIELD.

Base Ball—Pittsburgh Players Beaten—The Atlantic and United, at Wheeling—A Close Game.

The Atlantic Base Ball Club of this city some time since received a challenge from the "United" of Cleveland which they accepted. Yesterday was fixed upon as the time for the game. Our boys went down. They saw and were conquered.

It appears from a special dispatch, received in the city over the Pacific and Atlantic telegraph line last night, that the score stood eleven to nine in favor of the United. The game was played on the grounds of the United and was witnessed by a large number of spectators. Throughout it was closely contested and exciting. The fielding of the United won the game. At the bat they were weak. Brosie's pitching was something to which they had never been accustomed. They managed, however, to make up the deficiency by superior playing in other respects.

The result was unexpected, as the Atlantics were in good trim and had been pretty well developed in their games with the Allegheny recently. The "United" club united in a general glorification over their victory, which was well earned. The Atlantics will return to-day. They seem well pleased with their visit, and take their defeat with the best grace possible. They feel confident of turning the scale next game. The time for this has not yet been agreed upon, but it will likely come off at an early day.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

FRIDAY, September 9.—Several surety cases were called and disposed of.

The first jury case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. James Bradley indicted for assault and battery, Elizabeth Morris prosecutrix. The defendant it appears is the step-father of the prosecutrix, and as transpired from the testimony he was attempting to give her some advice which she refused to hear and he caught her by the arms to hold her. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, but recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the Court. The sentence of the Court was that the defendant pay a fine of $10, and costs of prosecution.

Dr. Croonie indicted for assault and battery plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Peter Barns, indicted for aggravated assault and battery, John Smith prosecutor. The defendant it was alleged struck the prosecutor on the face with a shovel, inflicting a severe wound over the right eye and nose. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the Court.

CASE SETTLED.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Charles Linkenfelter, indicted for an assault and battery on oath of his wife, Margaret, was settled by permission of the Court on payment of costs by defendant.

A TRUE BILL.

In the case of John Roth, charged with inflicting injuries which resulted in the death of Eva Dorotha Cornelius, of Birmingham, an account of which we published some weeks since, the grand jury returned a true bill for murder. There are two counts in the bill, one charging murder and the other manslaughter.

OUT OF COURT.

The following cases for assault and battery, growing out of a row at Troy Hill, were taken out of Court by the parties agreeing to an amicable settlement: Commonwealth vs. Nicholas Keefer, on oath of Rosanna Geny; Christ. Setterly, on oath of Nicholas Keefer; Nicholas Keefer, on oath of Christ. Setterly; John Setterly, on oath of L. Simons; Jas. Setterly, on oath of N. Keefer, and Christ. Setterly, on oath of N. Keefer. The costs, amounting in the aggregate to $100, were paid by the defendants in each case.

ASSAULTED AN OFFICER.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. William Orrel, indicted for assault and battery and resisting an officer while in the discharge of his duties. The prosecutor, officer Cole, of Marshall township, went to Mr. Orrel's premises to execute a warrant on defendant, when, it is alleged, defendant refused to go with him, and assaulted him. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

LARCENY OF MONEY.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Martin White, indicted for larceny, was the next case taken up. The prosecutor, Alfred Uhlman, who keeps a saloon on Fifth avenue, testified that on the 6th of August last the defendant, Martin White, in company with Peter Connelly, came to his saloon and called for drinks. He gave them what they called for, and after they drank it they went out without paying for what they drank. Later in the evening they returned and the same thing was repeated, and about eleven o'clock at night they came back and called for the drinks again, and after they had got them they started out, when the prosecutor called to defendant and told him that he had not paid for the drinks. White returned and gave the prosecutor a ten dollar bill in payment. The prosecutor had not change enough in the cash drawer and took out his pocket book, in which there was seventy-five dollars, from which to make the change and while taking out the change the defendent snatched the pocket book and ran away with it. The prosecutor followed and caught the defendant after a chase of about half a mile, and while holding him some one came up behind him and knocked him down and the accused escaped. Connelly and White were both arrested, but Connelly was discharged at the hearing before the Mayor. The son of the prosecutor was sworn and corroborated the testimony of his father. There were no witnesses called for the defence and the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Miss Annie Waite, the fascinating actress, was the recipient of a benefit at the Opera House last evening, and if any further evidence of her popularity was necessary it might have been found in the vast throng assembled. "The Courier of the Alps; or, the Man of Destiny," with Mr. Leake in the title role, and Miss Waite in the role of Louise Baudin was presented. The piece is an interesting one, based upon an excellent plot and is replete with thrilling scenes throughout. The cast embraced nearly the entire strength of the company, and each member played the role assigned him or her with a degree of perfection seldom attained by any company. The "Delbois of Mr. Nichols was an excellent piece of acting. He is certainly the best man in that line of character we have had at the Opera House for several years. The entertainment concluded with a laughable sketch of a "Conjugal Lesson" from Annie Waite to W. H. Leake, which was highly applauded by the audience. This afternoon "Frou-Frou" will be repeated, and this evening Mr. Leak will take a benefit, on which occasion an interesting entertainment will be given. Mr. Leak's many friends will of course be present.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The repairs and improvements which the Academy of Music has undergone, under the direction of the present manager and through the liberality of Mr. McClurg, the owner, have worked a complete metamorphosis. So great has been the change that those most familiar with it would scarcely recognize it. The main entrance is now at the corner of Liberty street and Strawberry alley, and consists of an easy flight of stairs, twelve feet in width, affording ample means both of ingress and egress. The old entrance will be used hereafter as a place of egress only, and in case of necessity the house could be emptied in five minutes if filled to its utmost capacity. The entrance to the third and fourth tiers has been changed to the alley front of the building, and many other improvements have been made, which we have not space to describe. The season will open Monday evening, on which occasion the Fisk burlesque troupe will make their first appearance in this city, in "Bad Dicky," an amusing burlesque. The entertainments at the Academy, while they will be of a diversified character, will be strictly first class, and while there will be plenty to laugh at, there will be nothing whatever to offend the taste of the most fastidious. Mr. Beamer's regular company comprises some of the leading artists in the profession.

MASONIC HALL.—Professor Silvester and his charming pupil close their engagement at Masonic Hall this evening. A family matinee will be given this afternoon, at which every child in attendance will receive a handsome present. A complete change of programme will be made his evening, and as usual, one hundred presents will be distributed to the audience.

THE MENAGERIE.—Van Amburg's Menagerie will exhibit at Iron City Park next week during the Fair. This is exclusively a menagerie, there being no circus connected with it, and it comprises one of the finest collections of animals ever exhibited in this country.

VARIETIES.—The entertainments at the Varieties Theatre, under the management of Mr. Ames, are of a most excellent character, and as an evidence that his efforts to please the public are appreciated, the house is crowded nightly.

Soldiers' Artificial Limbs.

Under the recent act of Congress, providing limbs to disabled Union soldiers, at Government expense, the manufacturer is compelled to file a bond in the sum of $5,000 with the Surgeon General of the Army, binding himself to make the limb, first class, for the Government order, and without additional cost in any shape to the soldier; and further that he will make good all defects of either material or workmanship, for the term of five years. The Surgeon General then appoints a competent surgeon in each city where limbs are made to inspect and certify that each limb delivered is a good article and well made. This admirable system secures the soldier against fraud, and throws out the strong arm of the Government for the protection of his rights. The "Artificial Limb Manufacturing Company," a chartered company, composed entirely of men who have lost a leg, and who each wear the limb made by the company, have filed the above named bond, and are now authorized by the Government to make limbs for soldiers on its orders. The limbs they make are second to none made in the country, as it is attested by many beside the members who have used them. Being in the business they ask the patronage of their fellow soldiers, and they certainly deserve it. We would advise our crippled heroes to send to them for a descriptive circular, which is furnished free, as well as all information, blanks, &c., necessary in making application to the Surgeon General for a Government order. Their address is, "Artificial Limb Manufacturing Company, No. 748 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"Dolores."

We learn with pleasure that Prof. R. Leonhart meets with the most flattering success in the publication of his new work, "Dolores." The subjoined letter from the pen of undoubted literary merit will show our citizens that they are supporting no unworthy cause:

WESTERN UNIVERSITY, Sept. 3, 1870.

PROF. REED LEONART—Dear Sir: It is with great pleasure I hear of your resolution to publish your work, "Dolores," which you kindly submitted to my perusal some time since.

My interest was enlisted in the opening chapter and fully sustained to the end. The plot is deep and ingenious; the characters are good and well delineated, and the incidents numerous and vividly described. Its publication, in my opinion, will be quite an acquisition to our belles lettres, and be justified by the patronage of the many readers and admirers of your writings.

With the best wish for your continued success, I remain

Very truly yours,

W. J. L. NICODEMUS.

HANDLING THE OARS.

Coulter-Renforth Sculling Race—Meeting Last Night—Articles of Agreement Approved by Coulter—Awaiting Renforth's Signature—Other Races.

Last night a meeting of the representatives of Renforth and Coulter was held at the "Constitution" to arrange the articles of agreement for the proposed international scull race. The English oarsman was represented by Robert Liddell, Esq. Coulter was present with a number of his friends. Articles of agreement were submitted and agreed to by Coulter. Mr. Liddell will leave this morning for Montreal to get Renforth's signature to them.

The articles are as follows:

Articles of agreement made and entered into this——day of——, A. D., 1870, by and between Mr. James Renforth, of Newcastle on Tyne, England, and Mr. Henry Coulter, of Allegheny City, as follows, to wit:

And it is further agreed that the following rules shall govern the race:

1. The judges (each party to the agreement to select one judge) shall toss for choice of positions one day previous to the race.

2. The leading boat shall be entitled to the choice of water as soon as she can show clear water between herself and the boat following.

3. Either boat swerving from her direct course in order to impede the progress or chances of the other boat, shall be ruled out.

4. If the day chosen shall not be suitable for the race, on account of rough water, the race shall be rowed on the first fair day following. The condition of the water to be judged by the parties to this agreement.

5. In case the judges appointed to select a referee shall not decide or disagree in deciding upon the referee it shall become the duty of the final stakeholder to make the appointment of a referee.

6. And it is further agreed that the said Mr. James Renforth shall be paid the sum of $200 by the said Henry Coulter for the purpose of defraying the said James Renforth's traveling expenses.

And finally, if either party to this agreement, fails to comply with its stipulations, he shall forfeit all money deposited.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals, this—day of——, A. D., 1870.

Witness: [SEAL.]

THE REGATTA,

which ended so unsatisfactorily last Saturday, will be rowed over again to-day. At the Constitution last night pool selling took place, the McKee Club being the favorite. The race will take place at three o'clock sharp.

OTHER RACES.

At four o'clock this afternoon there will be a three mile race on the Allegheny between Wm. Garvey and Adam Shore.

Between four and five o'clock there will be a three mile race for a purse of $200, between August Miller, of the Howard Club, and Wm. Hannah. The contestants will start from the Suspension Bridge and row to Hare's Island and return.

ANOTHER FEMALE ASPIRANT.

Miss Rosa Steele, of this city, expresses her anxiety to row a two mile scull race with Miss Sheehan, the victor in the New York Regatta, which occured a few days ago. She has put $50 into the hands of Mr. T. F. Hughes as a preliminary deposit, and has forwarded a challenge to the New York damsel. The challenge is to remain open one week and the race is to be rowed three weeks after the articles have been signed—the race to be for $500 a side.

Corner Stone Laying.

The societies intending to join in the procession for the laying of the corner stone of St. Andrew's church, Manchester, on Sunday next will form as follows:

The societies of Pittsburgh and the Cathedral will form on Grant street, in front of the Cathedral, to proceed to St. Philomenas' church.

The societies of Birmingham and that side of the river will join this procession at the Cathedral, Grant street.

The Allegheny societies and that side will be in readiness to join the procession as it passes to the church.

The societies from Lawrenceville and surroundings will join in the rear of the procession, the right resting at St. Philomena's church. Each division will appoint its own marshals, and be on the ground at half-past two o'clock, to accompany Rt. Rev. Bishop Domenec to the church.

Just now you can get there reed birds, soft shell crabs, hard shell and devilled crabs, spring chickens, and almost everything else. There are very few things that can be asked for in vain at the "Continental."

The increasing popularity of the Girard House, Allegheny, is evidenced in the inquiries which are made for it by strangers coming into the city for a brief sojourn. It is located on the corner of Isabella and Federal streets, and is without doubt one of the best hotels in the two cities. Capt. Lightcap has taken it in charge, and under his supervision it has attained its present rank.

The Surrender.—Napoleon has surrendered, unconditionally, just as the trunk dealers in this vicinity surrender to Liebler, the prince of trunk manufacturers, whose headquarters are located at 104 Wood street. There is nothing known in the trunk line, from the tiniest Caba to the largest Saratoga, which can not be had at 104 Wood street. Liebler carries the palm.

Valuable Oakland Property for Sale.

For sale, a first-class two-story brick dwelling house, slate roof, fronting on Charlotte street, Oakland, and running back to Bouquet street; within five minutes' walk of the Oakland car station.

This house is new, contains fourteen rooms, besides wash-house, bath house, water closets, pantries, wide halls, lofty ceilings, and closets in every room; cellar eight feet in the clear under the whole house. Is supplied with water from the city water works, also with spring water forced into the house by a hydraulic ram.

The kitchen is fitted up with one of Bissell & Co.'s Ranges and Boiler, and the house is supplied with hot air registers and one of Graff, Hugus & Co.'s Furnaces. Marble mantels in all the rooms. Ash pits in the cellar to receive the ashes from all the fire places.

Gas fixtures all through the house from cellar to attic. Hot and cold water in kitchen, wash house and first and second floors of the building. Large porches in front and rear of the house.

The interior, finished, painted and grained in an elegant manner, must be seen to be appreciated.

The gronds, nearly two acres, are tastefully laid out in walks. There are two never-failing springs of soft water that supply the house, spring house and two fish ponds with water; water soft and of excellent quality. Fish ponds contain brook trout and gold fish.

Nice spring house, out house, henery, and new fences, gates and sidewalks all round the lot. The grounds are well stocked with all kinds of fruit trees, set out about twelve years ago, in full bearing. There are a large variety of evergreen trees and flowering shrubs and flowers on the place, of the choicest varieties.

To a person of means desirous of purchasing an elegant home ready to move into, complete in all details, this is a rare chance, as it can be purchased for less money than the cost of buying and building such a place. It is one of the most attractive pieces of property in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. For further particulars enquire of Which suffers little children to come to Him.

It's probable now that he's practicing very
Assiduous like, his little angel hymn.

His bottle seemed to damp his stomach's tone,
But with the angels he gets plump and merry
For there's no nursing bottles where he's gone."

A NEW and fearful warning is held up to tea-drinkers. A savant has discovered that when we pour milk into a cup of tea or coffee the albumen of the milk and the tannin of the tea instantly unite and form leather, or minute flakes of the very same compound which is produced in the texture of the tanned hide, and which makes it leather as distinguishable from the original skin. He consequently estimates that in the course of a year, a tea-drinker of average capacity imbibes enough leather to make a pair of shoes.

A CHICAGO POET, who has just published a book, was evidently inspired by a Chicago muse. For instance, in describing the defence by a woman of her house against Indians, he says: "Thus seven fierce imps by one weak hand were sent express to hell." And again, the following from a poem npon the battle of Bunker Hill:

"The mangled limbs that lay all round,
Dissevered heads whose eyes
Glared fierce in death; and headless trunks;
And spouting arteries."

A YOUNG couple started in a buggy, last week, to Scales Mound, Illinois, for the pupose of being joined in wedlock. When nearing the railroad station, the horse took fright and threw them into a ditch, from which they were extricated in a sad plight. The young man had his lips seriously damaged, and the young bride suffered from two broken limbs and a sprained thumb. In all her troubles she declined to be sent home as she had come, and in the course of the afternoon the services of a civil officer were procured and the pair made man and wife.

THE Nashville Republican Banner of Saturday says: A private letter to Gen. Harrison, United States Marshal for this district, contains the information that on Tuesday night last, an old Baptist preacher named John Buck was taken from his bed at Lester's Station, six miles this side of the Tennessee State line, on the Nashville and Decatur Railroad, tied to a tree and his throat cut from ear to ear. No cause is alleged for this awful deed. Mr Buck was an old and inoffensive citizen, and was, we understood, pretty well known in this city. A singular fatality seems to follow this family. About a year ago a son of Mr. Buck was killed by masked men in Pulaski.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—It should be distinctly understood that this is NOT A CIRCUS, but a colossal exhibition of Living Wild Animals, forming the largest and most complete Zoological Collection ever brought together on this Continent. There has been no such exhibition in this city for a long time, and the public may rely upon witnessing an exposition of animated nature, surpassing anything and everything of the kind hitherto achieved by private enterprise, either in this country or Europe. The Van Amburgh Menagerie has been established for nearly half a century and has always been acknowledged as the most complete zoological collection extant; and this year it is larger and more full in every department than at any previous time. Entirely free from all features of a questionable tendency and eminently instructive in its character, this mammoth exhibition offers to old and young an opportunity for viewing the rarest varieties of the animal kingdom such as is not likely to occur again for many years.

THE DISTINGUISHING FEATURE of the Great Golden Menagerie, next to its unparalleled magnitude, consists in the great number of EXTREMELY RARE SPECIES NEVER BEFORE SEEN IN AMERICA which it contains; while for variety and completeness NOTHING TO COMPARE WITH IT has ever been brought before the public.

FIVE HUNDRED LIVING SPECIMENS of the rarest beasts and birds known to naturalists are comprised in this immense collection, which occupies an enormous pavilion, as large as six ordinary circus tents. It is the extant, and has been brought to its present state of magnitude and perfection only after an expenditure of HALF A MILLION DOLLARS!

A great variety of

INTERESTING PERFORMANCES,

Introducing many different species of

will add to the interest of each exhibition.

A LECTURE ON NATURAL HISTORY,

in which the traits and habits of the animals on exhibition are briefly summed up, is a novel feature which has received the unqualified commendations of the press.

THE SPECTACULAR PROCESSION, formed on entering the city TUESDAY morning, will be found a pageant of the most brilliant description, headed by a gorgeous car surmounted by a LIVING LION, LOOSE AND UNTRAMMELED!

Will also exhibit at NOBLESTOWN, MONDAY, Sept. 12.
